Nixon, Tanaka open talks

HONOLULU (UPI) — President Nixon and Japanese Premier Kakuei Tanaka opened summit talks today with the Japanese prepared to offer a $1.1 billion purchase to ease the trade gap, which has strained relations with the United States.

White House sources said that Tanaka was ready to agree to a multi-million dollar purchase of wide-bodied aircraft—including air buses, helicopters for rescue operations—as well as enriched uranium, forestry and agriculture products.

The agreement was worked out between Kiyohiko Tsurumi, deputy vice foreign minister of foreign affairs for Japan, and U.S. Ambassador Robert Ingersoll, the sources said. The emergency purchase package would be effective by April 1, 1973 and would cut into the multi-billion-dollar U.S. trade deficit.

The trade imbalance has been the cause of growing friction between the two countries. Nixon warned in advance of two days of meetings with Tanaka that failure to improve the situation would cause a clamor on the part of American protectionists to impose quotas and restrictions upon Japanese exports.

Nixon and Tanaka were scheduled to meet at the new, plush Kullima Hotel after both leaders kept the morning free for their own official business. The trade concessions were expected to be outlined in a joint statement issued at the conclusion of the summit talks on Friday.

While trade was the main topic on the minds of Americans, Nixon also made it clear that he intended to be informed of Japan's recent overtures toward China and the prospect that the Japanese will soon establish diplomatic relations with the Communist mainland. Both the Japanese leader and Nixon were expected to take each other's measure at the first meeting of an American President with a Japanese Prime Minister in Hawaii.

They arrived in the island state only a few hours apart Wednesday night.

Nixon said he hoped the two-day summit would "build a structure of peace in the Pacific."

Ransom ready

SHERIFF'S DEPUTIES and FBI agents load $100,000 ransom into small plane for delivery after "pay up or blow up" threat was received at Milwaukee, Wis., airport Wednesday. Ransom was not delivered when no further word was received from caller. Officers said threat was either hoax or extortioner was scared off.

Extortion demand met but ransom never paid

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — An extortionist demanded $100,000 from United Airlines Wednesday by playing a tape of his voice and leaving a bomb-like device in a locker along with a note which said "pay up or blow up."

Authorities said the money was not dropped off as ordered because the extortionist who called Gen. Mitchell Airport either was playing a hoax or was frightened away.

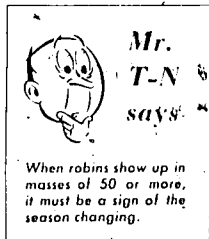

Among those who had passed through the terminal that evening was Democratic vice presidential candidate Sargent Shriver, who flew in from Washington. He spoke in Milwaukee Wednesday night.

The extortionist directed that the money, in old unmarked $10 and $20 bills, be dropped over Watersmeet, Mich., from a small, chartered plane after he contacted the plane on a citizens' band radio.

A pilot and three agents, equipped with parachutes, jump boots and small arms, circled the area just across the Wisconsin-Upper Michigan border in a Cessna 172 for about an hour. The pilot, Jon R. Sherman of Milwaukee, said no contact was made.

Milwaukee County executive John Doyle said a United Airlines clerk reported getting the call at 10:07 a.m. The device and a note were found in locker 430. Their location was disclosed in the tape telephone conversation.

When robins show up in masses of 50 or more, it must be a sign of the season changing.

KH fire destroys cellars

By MRS. ARTHUR GREER Times-News writer

KING HILL. — A chain reaction fire has destroyed eight huge potato cellars on a large corporate farm here.

The cellars were among 10 placed side-by-side on the Black Mesa Project farm owned by Grigg and Anderson Farms, Burley.

Each cellar was 450 feet long. They were empty.

No estimate of damage was immediately available. Losses were expected to reach at least $100,000.

Charles Baker, manager for the mesa farm, said today he did not know how the fire began.

He said a crew of over 25 men had been re-roofing the cellars. Five of the destroyed cellars had just been re-roofed with metal, he said.

The fire was discovered about 3:30 p.m. Tuesday by workers in nearby fields.

Baker said insurance would probably fail to cover total losses.

Farm workers finally halted the advancing flames by laying sprinkler lines between cellars and directing the water flow onto the cellars.

Lines were laid between the first and second cellars, but the fire fighters had to retreat until they finally halted the fire at the ninth cellar, Baker said.

The Glenns Ferry Fire Department also responded to the fire call.

Baker said the cellars were about eight years old.

Reserves rise

TOKYO (UPI) — Japan's reserves of gold and foreign currency rose by $408 million in August, and reached $16.372 billion as the month ended, the Finance Ministry said today.

It was the second highest month-end figure on record, after the $16.630 billion recorded at the end of March.

It seemed certain to spur speculation about another revaluation of the yen.

The ministry also disclosed that the Bank of Japan has to support the dollar at its lowest level by buying $100 million with yen in August.

Growth of the reserve was blamed on the continuing large trade surplus, along with investment by foreigners in Japan's booming stock market.

Sawtooth rites planned Friday

REDFISH LAKE — U.S. Forest Service Chief John R. McGuire will be among dignitaries visiting the Sawtooth National Recreation Area Friday for formal dedication.

The Sawtooth NRA will be dedicated in a ceremony Friday at 1:30 p.m. at Redfish Lake visitor center. The public is invited to attend the ceremony.

Others scheduled to take part include Idaho's congressional delegation, including Senators Frank Church and Len B. Jordan, and Representatives Orval Hansen and James McClure. Regional Forester Verin Hamre, Ogden, Utah, and forest supervisors also will participate.

The officials will be taken on a bus tour of the recreation area between Ketchum and Redfish Lake prior to the dedication ceremony, leaving from the temporary SNRA headquarters at Ketchum.

The Sawtooth National Recreation Area was officially created last Friday when the bill was signed by President Richard Nixon.

It covers 754,000 acres of scenic area including the Sawtooth, White Cloud and Boulder mountain ranges, the headwaters of Big Wood River and most of the north fork of Big Wood River and the Salmon River east of Stanley. It includes the 216,000-acre Sawtooth wilderness.

Forest officials in Twin Falls said several hundred persons are expected to attend the ceremony.

Three buses will take the visiting officials along with representatives of state and federal agencies, county governments, chambers of commerce, state legislators, press representatives and a number of key individuals with interest in the resources of the area on a tour of the area. Forest advisory board members and others have been invited.

Although the SNRA did not become official until this past week, the forest service established a proposed SNRA headquarters July 1 at Ketchum to begin the administration of the area.

Management objectives will conform with provisions of the SNRA legislation which are designed for the protection of the natural, scenic, historic, pastoral and fish and wildlife values and for enhancement of the recreational values, officials said.

New fund violations charged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican National Chairman Robert Dole said today he would make additional charges of campaign fund violations by Sen. George S. McGovern's backers. He filed seven Wednesday which government auditors are investigating.

He said he would be citing this week two or three more allegations. At the same time, Dole said that in this first year of operation of the new disclosure law, both Democrats and Republicans would commit "unintentional violations."

The General Accounting Office (GAO), which last weekend reported possible violations by fund-raisers for President Nixon, moved quickly to investigate Dole's initial charges.

The Democrats have contended that some funds for the Nixon re-election effort, though possibly collected before the new law requiring disclosure of contributions went into effect April 7, should be looked into because they were not reported until after the deadline.

Dole said today the GOP was not trying to hide anything and said it would be simple to amend the law to make it effective earlier. He said he was thinking about introducing such an amendment himself and noted McGovern had the same opportunity when the Senate reconvenes next week.

Dole was interviewed on the NBC-TV Today show.

The senator described the break-in of Democratic headquarters on June 17 as "a bizarre incident."

"It never should have happened, and I still can't believe it happened, but it did," he said.

As President Nixon and Attorney General Richard G. Kleindienst did earlier, Dole said he could see no reason to have a special prosecutor named to investigate the case.

Democratic spokesmen have questioned having the Nixon administration itself, through the Justice Department, conduct the investigation. Dole said he was confident the department would fully prosecute those responsible for the incident.

As for the GOP charges of campaign fund violations against the McGovern organization, Philip S. Hughes, director of the GAO's Office of Federal Elections, said he had been expecting them.

Hughes told UPI that he prepared his staff to begin an audit of McGovern's campaign at the same time the GAO investigates alleged violations by the Committee for the Re-Election of the President.

Dole said Wednesday that the McGovern violations would mount into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Frank Mankiewicz, McGovern's political director, responded categorically to three of Dole's charges and said he would find the answers to the other four.

Mankiewicz said that Dole's allegations came after the GAO investigation of $350,000 in Nixon campaign funds that sprang from an alleged attempt to bug the Democratic national headquarters.

New cancer virus found

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Soviet scientists may have been successful in scoring a major breakthrough in cancer research by isolating a human virus that causes leukemia in animals, American researchers said Wednesday.

Dr. Boris Lapin, a Soviet who is visiting cancer research facilities in the United States, said his country is willing to exchange information of the findings with American researchers.

Leukemias are cancers of the blood-forming and lymphoid tissues. About 38,000 new cases of all types of leukemia are diagnosed each year, or 5-6 per cent of all cancer cases.

Lapin, who was in this country for the first time since the joint May 23 scientific agreement reached at the Moscow summit, joined with officials of the National Cancer Institute (NCI) in making the announcement.

Dr. Frank J. Rauscher Jr., recently appointed NCI Director, said he is leaving next month for the Soviet Union for further cancer talks and that Dr. John B. Moloney, an associate scientific director of NCI, hopes to take a group of cancer virologists to Russia in October.

Lapin said that Soviet scientists found the virus that may cause leukemia in humans.

Seer sets up

LEWISTON (UPI) — This city's first astrology business opened briefly Wednesday night, then shut down temporarily and voluntarily.

Kenneth Hopkins said after the opening and closing, "That's all I need to do to set the ball rolling."

Hopkins has been fighting the City Council for several months in an attempt to get a license to operate the business.

Although Hopkins opened the business in a hotel, he was not arrested or issued a citation by police. He said he planned to operate on a regular basis today.

McGovern Needs Brilliant Coup

WASHINGTON (UPI)—With election day 10 weeks off, it appears that only a Republican catastrophe or a brilliant Democratic coup can deny President Nixon another four years in the White House. George S. McGovern, who must come from far behind if he is to win, takes hope from the fact that he did surge from virtual insignificance to capture the Democratic nomination. Nixon's heavy favoritism must be tempered by his recollection of the lead he nearly lost in 1968. But the President starts with the immense advantage of incumbency—daily public exposure in print even when he is not campaigning and with unlimited access to the political marketplace of television. In this century, only two incumbents who sought reelection were defeated. Both were Republicans: William Howard Taft, whose party broke into two pieces in 1912, and Herbert Hoover, whose term ended in the bottom of the Depression. An excess of favorable signs can lead to overconfidence, apathy and doubts about the need for more campaign funds. A party afflicted by pessimism can suffer from apathy and a shortage of money. But for Nixon, public reaction to his trips to China and Russia has been favorable. His ratings for overall performance are again on the upswing. And money is the least of Republican problems. McGovern has run into one crisis after another since his nomination. His party is divided. He has been ignored or repudiated by some prominent Democrats and by candidates running unaffiliated with the national ticket. He has been hurt by a split in the normally Democratic leadership of organized labor. If the South Dakota recovery support from disturbed party leaders, he risks offending antiestablishment members of his youth corps, which helped him win the nomination. Although Vietnam is back at, or near, the top of issues for 1972, the Democrats will never ignore pocketbook issues. Despite large government deficits and a mid-term shift in administration economic policies, the unemployment rate is still more than 5 per cent and complaints about rising consumer prices never stop. Many voters still identify the GOP with big business. But the Republican leadership clearly is aiming at cracking the Democratic coalition built during the New Deal from blue collar workers, ethnic and other voting blocs. Polls indicate measurable success even without much progress in recruiting black voters. A mid-August Gallup poll gave Nixon a 28-point lead over McGovern, whose strength was concentrated among young voters. A poll for Time magazine by the Daniel Yankelovich organization showed Nixon in front in 16 battleground states and with comfortable leads in New York, Pennsylvania, Texas and Michigan—pivotal states carried in 1968 by Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey. In the three-way race of 1968, Nixon led Humphrey by 8 points in a Harris poll in mid-September and by 13 in a Gallup poll late in the same month. Just before the election, these polls showed Humphrey had moved up to indicate a very close race, and Nixon won by less than 1 per cent of the popular vote. McGovern can look back to 1972 winter polls showing him the choice of only 3 to 5 per cent of the Democrats before his presidential primary victories and triumph at the convention in July. His hopes call for a similar swing this fall.

Every Little Bit Helps

Checkless Society

Millions of pieces of paper changing hands each week, each one requiring handling and accounting entries by several persons. Problems with balancing accounts, errors, overdraws and forgotten payments.

This is the checking account society, a cash substitute which has been praised as a boon to commerce and condemned as an inefficient insult to the computer age. Minor experiments have been conducted to see what would happen if all those transactions were handled automatically, without the little pieces of paper.

Beginning on October 16, the first statewide test of automatic banking will go into effect in California. More than 100 banks representing 95 per cent of the branches in the state have signed up for the program, which ought to settle one way or the other the workability of the system.

It will be completely voluntary for both employers and account holders. When both employers and employees agree, the plan starts with a notification to the bank of the employee's net pay. The amount is credited to his account. When bills for his account are received, he is notified by the bank and has 10 days in which to stop payment. That is the extent of the account holder's participation. No one knows how widely the plan will be accepted, or what additional costs may be involved. Some savings are expected for the banks if the plan is widely utilized. Estimates are that within five years 15 million of the 180 million checks written in California each month will be eliminated. That should be a fair test of a checkless society. The results of this upcoming test might also give some indication of just how many jobs will be eliminated. — OAK.

Cancer Fight

New buildings, and new laboratories alone will not produce cures for cancer, but they will hasten the day scientists working in them can do the job.

With the award of $44 million in building grants, the National Cancer Institute has chalked up the first constructive effort in the cancer field by the federal government in nearly a decade. It also inaugurated at $500 million-a-year campaign — the most ambitious ever — to step up progress in the fight against the disease.

All phases of the program, from building stocks of test animals to creating large quantities of cancer viruses, are being expanded. International teams, representing such unusual combinations as the United States, the Soviet Union and Red China, will be enlarging on cooperative efforts in laboratories around the world.

The National Cancer Act of 1971, which went into effect this past February, commits the nation to an "expanded, intensified and coordinated cancer research program." The expansion in work and the greater possibility of early results is underway.

Spectacle

The attempted bank robbery in Brooklyn which involved the taking of seven hostages in a prolonged standoff with the police, and the eventual death of one bandit and the capture of the other, was bizarre enough in its reality.

But the unreal part of the incident was the crowd of some 3,000 onlookers who stood by jeering and cheering their varying emotions as though the scene was nothing more serious than a sports contest. It was a sick reaction for people who were watching a life and death drama which ended in one fatality and threatened a number of other lives.

If this incident was a result of the glorification of violence on entertainment screens, it may not be the last of its kind.

The Campaign Buttons

Hank Woodall walked into our office the other day, planked a package on our desk and told us we might like it because it had to do with political campaign buttons of which we had made mention in this column several days earlier.

Hank, the head mogul down at American Oil, was right—We are very much interested now that we have opened the package and we thank him for thinking of us. The package contained a framed assortment of Presidential campaign buttons dating away back and coming right up to the present. Right now we have it hanging on the wall at our office at home.

Now we are not going to be so silly as to tell you folks which button involved the first guy we voted for in our first Presidential vote. But it was more than a couple of years ago — believe me.

THE LIST PRICE

Dear Mr. Spectator: I picked this up the other day. Seems as though a farmer became irritated with the number of "extras" listed each time he bought a car, so he sent his automobile friend this price for a cow:

Basic price, $200; two-tone exterior, $45; extra stomach, $75; product storage department and dispensing device, $60; four spigots at $10 each, $40; genuine cowhide upholstery, $125; dual horns at $7.50 each, $15; automatic fly swatter, $35. Total list price, $595.

David D. Brown, Jerome

Mr. Spectator is getting ready to take the annual vacation. Two years ago we went to the Oregon and California coasts. Last year we went to the Washington coasts. Both trips were enjoyed and, you will remember, the Washington trip provided polished ocean rocks for anyone who would write in asking for them. We gave away 186 of them. Now, we are not telling you where we are going this time, how long we will stay, or what we hope to bring back. But we will say that the column next Sunday will be the last one which will be published until we return. So until then, we'll be thinking of you — and we hope you will miss us!

TODAY'S CHUCKLE:

BRUCE BLOSSAT

Must Woo Fringe

MIAMI BEACH (NEA) — Some influential Republicans, busy projecting, think their party could be within reach of regaining its old majority status. But they don't think a big 1972 pickup of Democratic votes by President Nixon will do much more than just get them started.

The reasoning about 1972 is this: Though the polls show that unprecedented percentages of traditionally Democratic Jews, Catholics and ethnics may vote Republican this November, they have a very special prod. It is their gross disenchantment with many proposals and attitudes they associate with the Democratic nominee, Sen. George McGovern.

Tough Republicans don't think all of the disenchantment will stay with Nixon until election day. Yet they do count on his holding enough of them to give him a far more comfortable victory than he scored in 1968. They fear, however, that even this may be misread as elevating the Republicans to an enduring eminence. In the judgment of one GOP realist, the value of 1972 may be only to demonstrate that solid-line Democrats can break the mold and move. The harder thing, in 1976, will be to keep them, when there will be no prod from a controversial McGovern but instead a possibly strong Democratic pull from Sen. Edward Kennedy.

What the Republicans need are now approaches and new mechanisms to capture and hold the disenfranchised Democrats. The GOP saw an opportunity to cut into labor's ranks after 1968, but never capitalized. Too many Republicans seem to recoil from going where the workers are—in noisy gatherings where the sleeves are rolled up and beer is drunk by the yard.

Some party strategists are saying, to the President and others, that from now on it's got to be different—or 1972 may prove to be merely an anti-McGovern flash in the pan that will leave the Republicans in the minority cellar they've occupied for 40 years. Realistic types are quietly proposing to join GOP and White House circles that the party waste no time in developing real access to labor and other winnable groups. This means not simply building effective contact with people long ignored, but devising programmatic appeals which will catch their eye and maybe their lasting allegiance. The trouble with the Republicans is that they're terribly green at all this. Reaching out is not their natural posture. Their attempts at this convention to parade their widening interest in the young, the blacks and others, for instance, were pretty heavy-handed.

A joke around town during the convention was that the GOP youth battalions, meeting every arriving delegation, shouting on television, stomping up and down the avenues, were the most exhausted people in Florida.

This is still largely surface stuff. You can't easily shake the idea that a super-friendly Republican has taken a course in camaraderie.

Scratch almost any Republican and he'll moan about his party's minority status. Given the need to widen out, the GOP should already be looking for the broadest-based presidential candidate, it can find for 1976. But don't let on.

In the clutch, most favor a member of the tight little club, not the party-crasher. "They like to win," says one analyst, "but they want to win with the right guy." That doesn't make it easy to get back to majority party status.

ANDREW TULLY

Lean Times

WASHINGTON — For almost a month now, I have been batching it in the ancestral manse while my live-in relatives whoop it up at a beachside pleasure dome, and I have discovered it is cheaper to eat out than in.

To wit, I am sick and tired of paying an airline pilot's ransom for a chunk of dubious meat which I must then take home and attempt to cook a little tenderness in, meanwhile manufacturing a pile of dirty dishes that would drive the meekest KP to desertion. I find myself checking the savings account before committing my purse to a $5 strip of steak or a scrawny $3 chicken, and even think twice about picking up a head of bibb lettuce or a quart of nonfat milk.

Inflation-wise, Mr. Nixon may be doing his best, but it is not good enough for us peasants whose coupon-clipping is confined to entering contests that guarantee the winner $1,000 a day for life.

To help the economy, I'm willing to make do with my 1967 blue serge and clothe my feet in bits of rag, but eating well, lots and often is absolutely necessary to the health not only of my not uncomely body but my psyche. Dish up three aquoras a day or I wither on the vine, and also go hungry.

Thus, for the remainder of my term in solitary I am switching to the local hash houses because the financial strain is a lot easier even at a night club on the la carte than in my happy home, and in some joints there is always the possibility of dancing girls suddenly leaping out of a pie. The grub in these bistros or at the Press Club may not be distinguished but it is edible, somebody else cooks and serves it, and the dishes are not deposited in my kitchen sink. Of course, there is always the possibility I will become a cafe society bum and get my name in the tabloids from associating with fun-loving swingers with which restaurants these days seem to be populated. If so, blame it on the economy, just like you blame the torture and murder of 17 small children on the fact that the poverty-stricken killer was depressed because the ash trays in his Cadillac were full.

What is wrong with the economy is that we don't have a program for the relief of starving, working Americans. We are still feeding, for free, people all over the world on the grounds they continue to suffer from the ravages of assorted wars, earthquakes, famines and the like, so how about an item in the budget to provide food for us peace-torn Yanks?

I grudge not the food bought for the real poor, but if the court pleases I wish to submit a brief in behalf of the bus driver who is trying to send all his sons to Yale and keep a chorus girl, while spending half his income on victuals. People who work for a living get as hungry as those who don't, although most of the pictures I've seen of the professionally unemployed—especially those who somehow can afford plane fare to political conventions—indicate they have considerably more blubber to nourish.

Possibly it is time we abdicated our twin roles of at once saving the world and buying color TV sets and water beds for every brawny 22-year-old who drops in on the neighborhood welfare office to sign up for the dole. That way, there might be enough food in the country to give supply an even break in its race with demand and an employed citizen could buy a pork chop without hocking the family jewels.

As for me, don't call after 7 p.m. Come eventide, I'll be loyally with a cutlet at Duke's on account of I've been driven from the family hearth by the grocery bills.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

The Doctor Says

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Could a 5 year old child's overweight problem be due partly to fluid retention caused by too much salt? — D.L.

I would very much doubt it—unless, of course, there is some more serious, underlying cause such as, for example, kidney disease.

Instead of looking for some simple excuse like too much salt, I'd take the child to a pediatrician for a thorough examination. If no disease is present, then I'd start a common-sense diet program to get him back to normal weight.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 18 and have not had my period in seven months. (I am not pregnant.) Is it possible that I could have cancer? — P.L.

Why the concern about cancer? First, it is very unlikely at your age; second, it usually causes bleeding.

I would suspect either some glandular dysfunction (particularly low thyroid) or some emotional complication.

Troubled with gout? To learn of new treatment for this cruel and painful disease, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of this newspaper for a copy of his booklet, "Gout—The Modern Way To Stop It." Please enclose a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: About whether bee venom prevents arthritis — I knew a beekeeper who had arthritis and later became allergic to bee stings and had to quit that kind of work. — A.B.

That fits with medical observations that bee venom is not a preventive for arthritis. It was the vogue years ago but has since been abandoned.

First Lady sets history

HONOLULU (UPI)—Mrs. Pat Nixon assures her own notch in Hawaiian history today while the President meets Japan's Prime Minister Kakuei Tanaka for a summit conference.

Mrs. Nixon, the most traveled first lady, will be the only wife of a president to step onto the soil of a neighbor island to Oahu, where Honolulu is located.

The first takes place when Mrs. Nixon arrives at Hilo Airport on the large island of Hawaii, where the mayor declared a two-hour holiday in hopes of getting as many of Hawaii's 66,000 residents as possible to attend the welcoming ceremony.

It's tremendous that Mrs. Nixon will be the first first lady to visit our island," Mayor Shunichi Kimura, a Democrat said.

Hawaii County GOP chairman Minoru Shintani said he was confident Mrs. Nixon's visit would generate more support for President Nixon in the Democratic stronghold.

Only 20 per cent of the registered voters of Hawaii are Republican, and Shintani said he was sure the first lady's "winning personality" would sway Democrats and Independents to the GOP.

Mrs. Nixon will spend seven hours on the volcano island and will visit several community centers before attending an extravagant luau prior to returning to Honolulu.

Tropical storm heads west

MIAMI (UPI)—Tropical storm Betty, its winds diminished to 50 miles-an-hour, began rolling westward today in the northern Atlantic off the Azores Islands.

Forecasters said the season's second tropical twister would probably turn more northward tonight and continue to weaken. The storm is no threat to land areas.

The storm was last spotted about 260 miles north-west of Flores Island in the Azores, near latitude 40.8 north and longitude 36.0 west.

American Party

JOHN G. Schmitz, left, presidential candidate of the American Independent Party, said he would "win in a walk" if the party's platform could be made known to every American. Schmitz, a California Congressman, said the platform "boils down to two essential planks—never go to war unless you plan on winning it" and opposition to the various proposed welfare programs. (UPI)

Astronauts to finish 56-day skylab test

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—Three volunteer astronauts will complete the full planned 56-day Skylab test instead of leaving the 20-foot long chamber early as indicated last week, officials said Wednesday.

Astronauts Robert L. Crippen, Karol J. Bobko and Dr. William E. Thornton said earlier they were ready to leave anytime the door of their cramped chamber was opened. Officials said Wednesday no adverse effects have been recorded thus far, but Richard S. Johnson, manager of the test, said the test will continue to assure full ground simulation of the longest planned manned space flight.

Scientists were watching for any problems that could occur during long confinements in a high oxygen atmosphere. Johnson said earlier that if none were observed soon, the test could end early.

Shriver raps GOP plan

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—Sargent Shriver, Democratic vice presidential nominee, kept a date with organized labor in Wisconsin Wednesday and criticized what he called President Nixon's "trickle down economics."

"It's time for the privileged few to pay the same kind of taxes the workers do," Shriver told a rally of 800 persons organized by the Wisconsin Labor United for McGovern Committee.

Shriver praised Democratic presidential candidate Sen. George McGovern for going to Wall Street—"the very heart of capitalism"—to present his plan for tax reform.

Shriver, a brother-in-law of the late President John F. Kennedy, said McGovern's Wall Street visit rekindled him of Kennedy's decision in 1960 to take the issue of his Roman Catholic religion to a meeting of Protestant ministers in Houston.

Shriver landed as scheduled at Milwaukee's airport, even though a bomb threat halted traffic in and out of the airport for a time Wednesday.

At one point during the rally Shriver was interrupted by an elderly woman who said she wanted to donate a check for $38.82 to the McGovern-Shriver campaign. She said it represented the 20 per cent increase in Social Security benefits which Democrats had pushed for in Congress, but which Nixon had tried to cut back.

Another woman pressed forward through the crowd, crashed in front of the platform to hand Shriver a $10 bill.

"This is better than a Billy Graham meeting," Shriver quipped.

The meeting was originally planned as one of several stops on a five-day swing through the Midwest. The tour was cancelled to enable Shriver to hold a week of strategy meetings with McGovern in Washington, but the McGovern campaign staff in Wisconsin persuaded Shriver to fly in from Washington especially for the rally.

Russ lag on troop cut talks blocks approval

LONDON (UPI)—Russian footdragging on discussion of East-West troop cuts is blocking acceptance by major allied powers of a projected November meeting to prepare an all-European security conference, diplomatic sources said today.

The United States, Canada, Britain and West Germany are withholding formal approval of the Nov. 22 start in Helsinki of multilateral negotiations aimed at preparing for the full 35-nation discussions scheduled for 1973, the sources said.

All have agreed in principle to the talks but are holding out on giving the final go-ahead, they said.

The reason for the wait-and-see stand of the four Western allies is that they want a clear indication from Moscow on whether it will agree to a simultaneous start of exploratory talks on balanced, mutual force reductions in Central Europe.

The Russians, who agreed in principle when President Nixon was in Moscow for the May summit, lately have evaded the issue and have failed to respond to recent American prodding.

The Russians have not said "no." But remarks dropped by Soviet officials on various occasions lately have conveyed the impression to the West that they are in no hurry to discuss a pullback of Communist troops from Central Europe.

Moscow evidently first wants to see the European security conference, which it has been urging for years, get under way and produce some results to its liking.

Hormone has cancer link

BOSTON (UPI)—A Boston specialist says the use of the synthetic hormone stilbestrol (DES) by pregnant women 20 years ago has been linked to more than 40 cases of cancer in their daughters.

Most of the girls are in their teens, but some are in their 20s.

But the specialist, Dr. Arthur Herbst of Vincent Memorial Hospital, emphasized Wednesday that most daughters of the mothers who had used DES did not develop cancer of the vagina—a cancer which, he stressed, can be cured upon detection.

DES was given to about 800 women in an experiment at the University of Chicago Lying-In Hospital in 1952 and 1953. Other women also were given DES before then.

"The risk factor is relatively small," Herbst said in an interview. "The fact is that most of the daughters of the women who were given DES did not contract any form of cancer."

But since most of the women who developed the glandular cancer of the vagina had mothers who were given DES, an investigation into the relationship between the hormone and the cancer was begun a year ago.

Earlier this week, Dr. Frederick P. Zuspan, professor and chairman of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology at the Chicago hospital, said letters were mailed to the 1,600 women who had participated in the experiment. Half of the women were given the drug and the other half, the control group, received harmless sugar pills.

The Chicago group and other women—whose number is unknown—were given the drug in cases where pregnancy was difficult. The drug was thought to be desirable to bring such pregnancies to term, lasting the full, nine-month gestation period.

Herbst said a registry was set up in Boston last year to evaluate the drug's relationship, if any, to the cancer.

The doctor said more than 80 patients had reported "the type of tumors we are investigating."

"Over half—some two-thirds of them—had a positive history" of their mothers having used DES, he said.

Fischer win away from world championship title

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (UPI)—Chess genius Bobby Fischer is a win away from the world title he dreamed of for 20 years.

The American challenger, 29, who started playing chess before his teens and dropped out of high school at 16 to devote all his time to it, got a draw in the 20th game against Russian world champion Boris Spassky Wednesday and moved within one point of the magic figure—the 12.5 points necessary to win the title.

Relaxed and smiling, Fischer called over referee Lothar Schmid after the Russian played his 54th move and offered a draw. After a slight hesitation Spassky accepted and put out his hand for the traditional handshake.

The 21st game begins at 10 a.m. MDT today with Spassky playing white and moving first. The 33-year-old Leningrad journalist must win at least three and draw the fourth of the remaining games to retain the title he won in 1969 and which has been in Russian hands for 35 years.

The 600 fans on hand for the 20th game, which had been started Tuesday and adjourned in the 41st move until Wednesday, could hardly believe their eyes at the sight of the gay and smiling Fischer, a far cry from the temperamental and eternally protesting player of previous games.

"Yes it was very pleasant," said Schmid. "Bobby asked me if I could point out the position for a repeated move because he could not remember. I had to get my own scoresheet as his was unreadable."

After the challenger left the stage Spassky remained seated. Suddenly he picked up Fischer's king and started moving it round on the wooden squares, going through a number of positions.

"No," he finally told Schmid, "I cannot find a win anywhere."

Then he picked up his thermos of coffee and walked slowly off the stage.

Most grandmasters agreed with the world champion that there was no alternative to a draw.

But U.S. grandmaster Larry Evans wasn't quite so sure. "I'm not convinced Spassky exhausted all possibilities, but it will take days of careful analyzing to see what he could have done."

Svetozar Gligoric of Yugoslavia disagreed. "It was a dead draw unless one of them made a blunder and those days are over. Bobby put up a masterly defense and there was nothing Spassky could do about it."

"With his life-time ambition so near Bobby was not in a mood to take chances and I doubt he'll risk anything in the next games."

NY Times 'bug' plan revealed

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The Los Angeles Times reported today that a major figure in the Democratic headquarters bugging case proposed during the 1971 Pentagon Papers incident that the Justice Department bug the offices of The New York Times.

The newspaper said G. Gordon Liddy made the suggestion while he was serving as the White House coordinator for an interagency group set up by the administration to investigate leaks of government information.

Liddy told Justice Department attorneys that the proposal to bug the New York Times was "a great idea" to discover who gave the secret documents to the newspaper. The Los Angeles Times said.

But when the attorneys determined that Liddy was serious, the newspaper said, they stopped dealing with him. They also did not mention the suggestion to Robert C. Marjarian who was then head of the department's internal security division and is now an official of the Committee to Re-Elect President Nixon.

When the bugging of the Democratic headquarters took place, one of the Justice Department attorneys learned that Liddy was working at the Nixon committee and told Marjarian of the Pentagon Papers incident.

Man arrested for explosion in Viet

BANGKOK (UPI)—Thai police Lt. Somchai Chaiyasuta was arrested today and charged with planting a gift wrapped bomb aboard a Cathay Pacific airliner which exploded high over the Central Highlands of South Vietnam last June 15, killing the 81 persons aboard.

Police said Somchai handed the package to his fiancée who was traveling with his 8-year-old daughter by a previous marriage and told her it was a valuable present for a friend in Hong Kong. He made sure she was sitting over the main wing span so there could be no chance of survival, police said. Somchai had taken out $55,000 in insurance policies on his fiancée, Sonwang Prasit, 20, and his daughter, Sonthaya, for a previous flight but that was over the Central Highlands of South Vietnam last June 15, killing the 81 persons aboard. Somchai asked his fiancée to place the bomb under her seat.

Special needs

MOSCOW, Idaho (UPI)—Democratic Senate candidate William E. Davis Wednesday called for special education programs to meet the needs of children with emotional, mental or physical disabilities.

The Pocatello Democrat, campaigning in student registration lines at the University of Idaho, said present funding of public education is inadequate to meet the needs of those with special educational problems.

He also called for additional school programs such as a universal kindergarten and pre-kindergarten education.

No-fault insurance meet set in Boise

BOISE (UPI)—Several insurance experts are expected to participate in a no-fault auto insurance and mass merchandising seminar here, Sept. 15.

The meeting, sponsored by the Idaho Association of Mutual Insurance Agents (IAMIA), is being held to "better inform those who are interested in these two subjects and who will be involved in making insurance laws for Idaho."

Speaking on his "pure no-fault" proposal will be former Idaho Insurance Commissioner John G. Blaine.

Mass merchandising will be explained by Howard A. Russell, of Auburnville, Mass. He is the author of legislation enacted in Massachusetts regulating the marketing of insurance on a group basis.

Both topics were introduced as proposals to the last session of the Idaho Legislature, but neither was enacted into law. The IAMIA said it will reintroduce them during next year's meeting.

Gem board sets meet

BOISE (UPI)—The Idaho Board of Education will meet with Gov. Cecil D. Andrus Sept. 7 to discuss the state's educational programs.

The session is part of a monthly meeting Sept. 7-8 here where the board will also hear recommendations for the 1972-74 public school budget.

Red rockets rip US air base

SAIGON (UPI)—A Communist rocket barrage killed 11 South Vietnamese and injured 47 persons, including 21 U.S. servicemen, at the Bien Hoa American air base and adjoining town today.

In Saigon, military officials said U.S. casualties last week were the lowest since American troops were ordered into combat in Indochina in 1965. The toll was five killed and three wounded.

U.S. jet fighter-bombers flew more than 250 strikes over North Vietnam Wednesday, the U.S. command said. One strike, only 40 miles south of the Chinese border, destroyed four supply buildings and set fire to a petroleum depot at Cam Pha —the northernmost of the ports blockaded by U.S. mines.

Pilots reported destroying the Dong Ngan ammunition depot 150 miles south of Hanoi, causing more than 100 secondary explosions and seven large, long-lasting fires, the command said.

Other jets leveled the Nghia Nuong coastal artillery station 70 miles north of the Demilitarized Zone, spokesmen said.

Field reports from Bien Hoa, only 14 miles northeast of Saigon, said 26 South Vietnamese were injured in the 51-round, 122mm dawn attack. Five or six of the rounds hit the town itself, killing seven civilians and wounding seven others. The rest of the fire slammed into the air base, killing four government airmen and wounding 10 others, in addition to the 21 U.S. personnel.

Twenty Americans suffered minor injuries while scrambling for shelter in the early morning darkness. One American, however, was wounded by flying shrapnel.

The U.S. command in Saigon said last week's five American deaths were actually two higher than the previous week but the total of three wounded was the lowest since the command began keeping weekly casualty statistics Jan. 1, 1965.

Last week was the second since March 8, 1965, that the United States has had no combat troops in Indochina. The first Marines were landed on that date, and the last combat battalion to leave withdrew from Vietnam Aug. 11.

U.S. casualties last week pushed the total for the Vietnam war to 46,555 killed and 303,346 wounded since Jan. 1, 1961. Spokesmen said one American died in a so-called "non-hostile incident" last week, bringing that total for the war to 10,265.

U.S. jet fighter-bombers using ordinary "dumb" bombs—as opposed to laser-guided or television-guided "smart" bombs—finally knocked down a battered 40-foot water tower at Quang Tri City Wednesday that the North Vietnamese had been using as an artillery observation post, UPI correspondent Barney Selbert reported.

Earlier Wednesday in Quang Tri, 435 miles north of Saigon, North Vietnamese gunners fired a 1,500-round artillery and mortar barrage at government marine positions. The day-long shelling was followed by a Communist ground assault but the government troops bent back the attack in fighting that killed 32 Communists and six South Vietnamese.

In other fighting throughout Quang Tri Province Wednesday, spokesmen said 119 North Vietnamese were killed. Government losses were 12 dead and 32 wounded.

Allied air and ground forces had been trying to destroy the concrete tower ever since they pushed into the Communist-occupied Quang Tri City area two months ago in a drive to recapture the northernmost provincial capital.

The tower is about a mile south of the Quang Tri Citadel, the walled fortress that remains firmly in Communist hands. In July, a direct hit on top of the tower apparently killed the observers there but failed to fell the tower.

5 GI's die in Vietnam

SAIGON (UPI)—Five Americans were killed and three wounded in Indochina war action last week, the lowest casualty toll since U.S. troops were ordered into combat in 1965, military spokesmen said today.

The U.S. command said the five deaths were actually two higher than the previous week. But the total of three wounded was the lowest since the continuing began keeping weekly casualty statistics Jan. 1, 1965.

Until last week, the lowest casualty toll came during the week that ended Nov. 20, 1971, when five Americans were killed and four wounded for a total of nine casualties.

Another three Americans were added to the rolls of those "missing, captured or interned" in Indochina last week, spokesmen said, bringing that total for the war to 1,602.

All five war deaths and two of the wounded were registered in South Vietnam. The third man wounded was hit over the Ho Chi Minh Trail in Laos by Communist groundfire, spokesmen said.

Last week was the second since March 8, 1965, that the United States has had no combat troops in Indochina. The first Marines were landed on that date, and the last combat battalion to leave withdrew from Vietnam Aug. 11.

Town shelled

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—Communist forces today fired about 30 mortar rounds into a small market town six miles north of Phnom Penh, wounding at least 18 persons, military spokesmen said.

About 50 miles to the northwest on High 5, the road to the rice producing regions, Communist forces also staged predawn attacks on Cambodian positions near the province capital of Kompong Chhnang. No details were available, spokesmen said.

Highway 5 has been severed since Aug. 18.

'Hired sniper' slays soldier

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—A British soldier was shot in the back by a sniper Wednesday and army sources said today they believed he was another victim of a professional killer hired from Sweden by the outlawed Irish Republican Army (IRA).

"We believe he has killed at least five of our soldiers in the past few weeks," the source said. "Usually with a bullet in the neck or the head. He is very good at his job."

The sources declined to say why they believed the mercenary came from Sweden. "We believe he is paid according to the rank of the man he kills. To him, the life of a private is worth $144," they said.

The death of the soldier, killed with one shot while on foot patrol in the Roman Catholic Falls Road area, plus the death of a trooper injured in a bomb blast two weeks ago raised the Ulster death toll to 544 in three years.

The province, part of the United Kingdom, has trembled on the brink of civil war since August 1969. Minority Roman Catholics would prefer to join with the Republic of Ireland in the south while the Protestant majority want to stay British.

While sniper bullets and bombs flickered across the province in the continuing violence, politicians continued backstage moves to try to settle the Ulster crisis peacefully.

Political sources in London and Belfast said British Prime Minister Edward Heath has agreed to meet a delegation of Catholic opposition groups in 12 days.

The delegation, of the Social Democratic and Labor party, asked for the meeting—the sources said. It included respected Catholic leaders who ceased cooperation with Britain when London introduced a policy of internment suspected IRA men without trial.

NATAL, Brazil (UPI)—American doctors and technicians aboard the medical ship Hope have failed to identify a disease that has killed more than 50 Brazilians, mostly poor persons from agricultural areas, in the past two weeks.

Five doctors, 14 medical students and two nurses, one an American from the Hope anchored off Natal, were ordered into the region surrounding this northeastern state capital.

French file suits over baby deaths

PARIS (UPI)—Parents by the dozens flocked to courts around France Wednesday to file suits charging that their babies died after being dusted with a baby talcum powder known as Bebe.

The death toll stood at 23 according to some official accounts, 27 according to others. Several deaths were listed by hospitals as "suspect" and hundreds of parents reported their babies were ill from the powder.

Andre Beque, investigating magistrate in Pontoise, the city in the area where most of the deaths were reported, captioned parents against "talco-phobia."

Sixty suits were filed in the Paris region alone Tuesday.

Beque said the suits would be "filtered" to eliminate those where the responsibility of the Bebe talcum manufactured by the Morhange Parfumerie was in doubt.

He said judges in the areas where the bereaved parents live would conduct "long and detailed investigations" involving medical certificates alleging the death was caused by the Bebe powder, autopsies, analysis and samples.

Beque said after all suits are documented authorities will compile an exact list of victims of the Bebe talcum.

If Morhange or its subcontractor, Setico, is found guilty, their officials could be sentenced to from three months to two years in jail.

Police confiscated hundreds of containers of the talc across the nation, from three cans found in Nice to 150 seized on the French island of Corsica.

In the Ardennes region, where city officials said 10 babies died from the talc, Mr. and Mrs. Andre Boumich were among the sad-faced parents waiting in the courthouse to file suits.

Apprenticeship ceremony set

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls Area Joint Apprenticeship Council plans its fourteenth annual apprenticeship completion ceremony and banquet Wednesday, Sept. 13.

According to Carl Crane, secretary of the council, the ceremony and banquet will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Roundup Room of the Hogerson Motor Inn.

About 10 apprentices who have completed their apprenticeship since October of 1971 will be presented certificates of completion by the Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training, U. S. Department of Labor. Acting as master of ceremonies for the program will be Bart Brown, Boise, Idaho State Labor Commissioner. R. Alan Smith of the LDS Church, Twin Falls, will give the invocation.

Speakers at the banquet will include regional director Roscoe H. Burt, Seattle, of the Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training; C. (Skip) Goddard, general construction manager at Nielsen Construction Co., Twin Falls, on behalf of management; Bill Westergard, international organizer for the International Sheetmetal Workers Association.

ELKO, Nev. The Elko County Fair and Livestock Show will run Sept. 1-4 in Elko.

Dick Combs, manager of the show, said it promises to be one of Elko's biggest and best livestock shows.

He said there will be four days of pari-mutuel racing with a total purse of $26,000. A new electric starting gate and electric photo finish timer will be used in the races this year.

There will be 16 feature races during the four-day event.

Bookmobile continues to seniors

TWIN FALLS Bookmobile operations to serve senior citizens in Twin Falls will continue, Mrs. Anna Lou Cullen, Twin Falls Public Library, said today.

The next regularly scheduled run will be Friday, Sept. 8 and will include stops at Washington, Duvall, Sunview, Pioneer Courts and the Reed Apartments.

Library officials said the announcement of the close of bookmobile schedules for the summer season brought many requests from the senior citizens for continued service to their areas and the library has decided the special run will continue.

Bulgaria, Russ reaping harvest from Montreal

MONTREAL (UPI) — In a decade when Canadian and American ships have all but given up on trans-Atlantic runs and cruises because of skyrocketing costs, the Bulgarians and Russians are slowly but surely reaping gold nuggets from Montreal harbor.

"Labor is the difficulty with domestic ships," admits Robert Sauve, manager of Baltic services for March Shipping Co. of Montreal, which signed the Bulgarian cruise ship Varna on a time charter in excess of $500,000 for the summer season.

"The Bulgarians are already making money on the deal," he said in an interview. "We are running about 70 per cent occupancy this season and are just slightly behind expenditures. We are now in negotiations with the Bulgarians for next year, and I am pretty sure we will turn a profit then."

March Shipping, the largest shipping agent in Canada, has under contract the Varna and acts as general North American agents for two Soviet passenger vessels — the 19,860-ton Alexander Pushkin and her sister ship, the Mikhail Lermontov. Between them, the three ships make 22 trips in and out of Montreal harbor in a year, with seven being trans-Atlantic voyages.

The Varna, formerly the 13,581-ton Ocean Monarch, belonging to the British Furness Tjermuda Lines, sailing between New York and Bermuda for almost 16 years, was purchased by the Bulgarian government in 1967.

"They bought it at almost a scrap price of $1 million," said Ben Byszewski, March Shipping's cruise coordinator. "You have to give a lot of credit to the Bulgarians for fixing the ship up in perfect running order." When March took the Varna over on the time charter basis, Sauve said "there were a few minor problems in dealing with the Communists system, but nothing we have not been able to overcome."

"For one thing, the food service was changed," he said.

"In the past, the food was strictly Bulgarian and some people got tired of it for a whole week. Now we have a Swiss-Canadian chef aboard who prepares an international menu, but we still have Bulgarian night once a week."

"Another thing the Bulgarians have learned is to accept tips. In the beginning on the Russian ship, the Pushkin, we had some difficulty in getting the crew to accept tips," Sauve said. "Now, however, even the Russians take tips."

A crewman's salary aboard the Soviet or Bulgarian ships is extremely low by North American standards and that is the main reason for their success.

An average salary for a beamman on the Varna is about $100 a week, according to the Seafarers International Union, an inexperienced Canadian sailor earns a minimum of $550 per month, including weekend work. Top pay for an experienced Canadian sailor is $900 per month.

The choice spot for a crewman aboard the Varna is being a waiter in the ship's night club where he can earn as much as $15 a night in tips.

"This is my last summer," said one waiter. "I have earned enough Canadian and American money to go home and buy a car and a summer cottage. I think I'll rest and take it easy for a year or so, and then I'll come back on the ship."

Holiday campaign planned

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. George S. McGovern will campaign from one end of the nation to the other during Labor Day weekend, his headquarters said Wednesday.

Most of his campaigning will be on the West Coast. According to the schedule, McGovern will fly on Saturday from Washington to Savannah, Ga., for an appearance at Hilton Head, S.C., and spend the night at Akron, Ohio.

On Labor Day, he will campaign in Barborton and Chippewa Lake, Ohio, then fly to Alameda County, Calif., and on to Seattle, Wash., where he will spend the night.

On Tuesday, McGovern will go from Seattle to Portland, Ore., and on to San Diego, Calif., and remain overnight in Los Angeles.

The headquarters did not announce McGovern's schedule for the rest of next week. It said he would be in Washington the rest of this week.

Farmer award slated

JEROME — Farm Bureau officials in Jerome County have announced sponsorship of an "Outstanding Young Farmer Award."

Gordon Hollifield, chairman of the Jerome Farm Bureau, said Carl Montgomery, chairman of the young farmers and ranchers committee, met with the bureau Tuesday night to discuss the program.

The young farmers and ranchers committee is in charge of the award with their plans to be approved by the county board. A candidate is expected to be announced by Jerome County group at the Sept. 26 board meeting. The candidate will compete in district competition. District winners go to state competition Oct. 26.

To be eligible the young farmer must be from 17 to 30 years of age, reside in Jerome County and be involved actively in a farming operation. Hollifield said this is a new program for the Farm Bureau.

He said in the past the Jaycees have sponsored the award, but have now discontinued it. He said it has been more than five years since Jerome County has participated in the state program.

EF rodeo to attract top riders

MILWAUKEE — Some of the top cowboys in professional rodeo plan to enter the Twin Falls County Fair rodeo, according to the Rodeo Cowboys Association.

Among them is Idaho's Larry Davis, who has won money at many of the country's top rodeos. Davis, of Homedale, competes in bull riding.

Performances, set for 8 p.m. Wednesday through Saturday, Sept. 6-9, at the fairgrounds arena, will feature bareback, saddle bronc, bull riding, calf roping and steer wrestling, said Tom Shouse, chairman of the rodeo.

Cowboys will add their entry fees to a $5,750 purse for the total prize money again this year.

Entry fees should bring the total to about $11,000. Last year at the rodeo, with 147 entries, prize money topped $10,500.

Reg Kester, Missoula, Mont., will produce the rodeo again this year.

Entries close at 6 p.m. Tuesday.

Planes aid

NEWARK, Del. (UPI) — King-sized model airplanes are being used at the University of Delaware to find safer and more accurate methods of spraying for mosquitoes.

The remote control planes are used in experimental spraying operations, then the results are applied to large craft and quantities of insecticide.

No foul play

MEDFORD, Ore. (UPI) — Oregon State Police were called to a residence just south of here to investigate the disappearance of 10 geese and six ducks.

Their owner, John Bower, told officers that the birds had disappeared over the past six nights. In an attempt to find out why they were missing Bower said he was even sleeping with the ducks. But the birds continued to disappear.

State Trooper Robert Lundell said in his report, though, "No foul play."

News Of Servicemen

JEROME — Army National Guard Maj. Nathaniel A. Spofford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nat Spofford, Jerome, recently completed part II of the command and general staff officer course.

The course, for non-resident resident officers, was taught at the U. S. Army Command and General Staff College, Ft. Leavenworth, Kan.

Major Spofford received his B. A. degree in 1961 from the College of Idaho, Caldwell. He is an elementary school principal in Boise, where he lives with his wife Pat.

General Motors accused of hiding dangerous steering defect in 1959

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Ralph Nader consumer group accused General Motors Wednesday of concealing a dangerous steering defect in 1959-60 Cadillacs and urged the Justice Department to investigate the charge.

In a letter to Attorney General Richard G. Kleindienst, the Center for Auto Safety claimed GM "has long been aware" of a defect in a steering control arm which can cause "sudden and complete loss of steering."

Known as a "pitman arm," the defective part is a lever which connects the steering box at the end of the steering column to the tie rods. If the arm breaks there is a total loss of steering without warning.

More than 204,000 Cadillacs were produced in 1959 and 1960. Lowell Dodge, director of the Center for Auto Safety, estimated that more than 100,000 of the Cadillacs still were on the highway.

Dodge claimed GM was arguing as recently as 1968 on whether to recall the Cadillacs. Its decision not to recall was partly based on potential expenses from law suits and "public discredit of GM" for failing to act earlier, he said.

The Nader group backed its charge with what it said were internal General Motors documents, including metallurgical analysis of the defective part.

The Justice Department was urged to investigate "GM's flouting" of the government's auto safety regulations.

"GM continues to withhold information in its files, knowing that completely avoidable death may result from its silence," the letter said.

Under law, violation of the Auto Safety Act carries only a civil penalty. But the center said GM's "clear intent" to violate safety regulations seriously suggested criminal intent.

The center urged General Motors to recall all 1959-60 Cadillacs and install new pitman arms free of charge. "The costs of the recall—about $15 per vehicle—would total less than five hours of after taxes profit" for GM, the group said.

The center also urged the Transportation Department to force GM to release its files on possible defects.

SWENSEN'S MARKETS FAVOR BUSING

Probably the most controversial part of Swensen's platform this year is busing customers across town. Swensen's insist that it is only fair that the government should encourage economic integration and overcome prejudice by forcing the people on the other side of town to ride in buses to Swensen's Markets.

Seeing a Swensen's Market for the first time could be a very educational experience. When asked by a reporter if he favored busing people from around Swensen's neighborhood to grocery stores on the other side of town, Mr. Swensen in his usual broadminded manner replied, "Of course not, what good would that do? You just don't understand busing!"

If you'd rather forget buses and drive your own car, please drive to Swensen's Markets this weekend

Idaho code said model

Idaho's new Uniform Probate Code is held up as a model for the rest of the nation in an article in the September issue of The Reader's Digest.

The code, which went into effect last July 1, "simplifies, hastens and drastically reduces the cost of passing on estates from husband to widow, or from one generation to the next," declares author Murray Teigh Bloom.

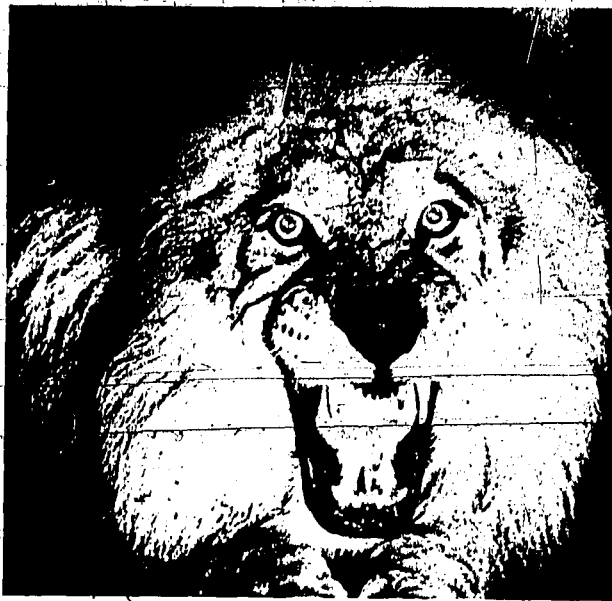

Moreover, he says, the new code — which was drafted by Professor Richard Wellman of the University of Michigan Law School — is now getting favorable consideration by legislatures in other states, including Arizona, Colorado, Hawaii, Pennsylvania and Washington, and has just been put into effect in Alaska.

In arguing for a Uniform Probate Code throughout the nation, the article notes that because current probate laws differ from one state to the next, inheritance costs can vary widely.

Under Idaho's new code, for example, a widow who has inherited a $100,000 estate from her deceased husband might expect to pay some $900 in legal fees, plus $32 in court costs.

But in Michigan, where the old system prevails, legal costs for settling an estate of the same amount would come to $4800, with court costs running $947.50!

Strong opposition from some lawyers and a number of probate judges has impeded the cause of probate reform in many states, the article says. In Idaho, reform was aided greatly by "the persuasive powers and political savvy of Edith Miller Klein, Idaho's only woman senator and chairman of the senate judiciary committee," Bloom writes, and by Philip E. Peterson, a 49-year-old professor of law at the University of Idaho Law School, who did an extensive analysis of the nearly 300 pages of the Uniform Probate Code.

Spanish class promotes better understanding

By BONNIE JONES
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — Robert Harris, assistant professor of Spanish at the College of Southern Idaho, has a plan for better understanding of the area's Spanish speaking minority.

Harris is offering a street-spoken Spanish course at CSI beginning Sept. 12 to run one and one half hours each Tuesday and Thursday night beginning at 6 p.m.

The program is tailored to citizens in the community who meet the Spanish speaking permanent or migrant residents in their course of business or daily activities and who would benefit by some knowledge of the Spanish language.

Harris said this is his fifth year at CSI and in previous classes state police officers, nurses, employees of downtown stores and restaurants and others have enrolled in either the beginning or advanced classes.

"These people have written letters expressing their appreciation and explaining the advantage of being able to gain the confidence of the Spanish speaking people by being able to converse only slightly in their language," Harris said.

Anyone in the community is welcome to attend the classes, he said, and the registration fee is most nominal. The course runs one full semester and is held in Room 103 of the academic building.

There are no credits and no tests required. Each student gains from the course whatever he is able to accumulate. In addition to the language study, the course includes some background of the culture of Mexico and Spain and music. Harris, a former teacher in Lewiston High School, is a graduate of Columbia University with a major in music and Spanish. He received his masters in Spanish at Washington State University, Pullman, and completed post graduate work at Kalamazoo College, Michigan, and "Universidad Internacional" in Mexico.

Nixon aide hits McGovern plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — HEW Secretary Elliot L. Richardson said Wednesday that Sen. George S. McGovern's welfare proposal was a "costly and scatter-brained scheme" which would force a major tax increase.

"The money will have to come from somewhere and that somewhere would certainly mean a major tax increase," Richardson, secretary of health, education and welfare (HEW), said in a statement at a news conference.

McGovern Tuesday proposed a guarantee of at least $4,000 a year for a poverty family of four and the closing of $22 billion a year in tax loopholes. He said most people would pay no additional income tax.

Richardson charged that the McGovern proposal calls for raising $52 billion to finance the welfare plan. The Nixon administration proposal would provide $2,800 for a family of four. "He avoids the critical issues of welfare reform — how to provide incentives to get off welfare and how to provide equity for the working poor — by ducking through the Mc-Govern loophole: 'We'll study it later,'" Richardson said.

"Sen. McGovern, it would seem, simply doesn't understand the issue or is obscuring the economic realities with the fuzzy use of selected figures."

Richardson charged that the plan was actually McGovern's third welfare proposal. He said McGovern first associated himself with a proposal by the National Welfare Rights Organization for a $6,500 a year income guarantee for families of four, and later proposed a $1,000-a-person income redistribution plan.

Richardson invited McGovern to a personal briefing on welfare but said that probably would result in a fourth plan much like the administration's own welfare reform proposal.

"Chances are that the fourth version of his welfare plan would then turn out to be H.R. 1 (the House-passed welfare bill), the only real hope of effective welfare reform," Richardson said.

Rufus to succeed Frasier

LAGUNA HILLS, Calif. (UPI) — Rufus doesn't know it yet but he's been nominated to succeed Frasier, the prodigious sire of Lion Country Safari.

Rufus is en route from his old home in Kansas to enter a new — and promising — world at the age of 15, rather ripe for a lion.

Frasier was about 20 when he gasped his last several weeks ago. He left his mark in the wild animal park — 35 cubs, offspring of seven lionesses serviced by Frasier.

Rufus, a hoosier by birth since he was born on a game farm near Madison, Ind., was purchased from a zoo at Wichita, Kans.

He is due by air freight Thursday morning. He won't be exposed immediately to his new harem but will be placed in an adjoining compound — quarantined more or less for two weeks.

The lionesses are selective, and rejected younger and handsomer lions before they stood still for Frasier.

Aide hits military policies

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., complained Wednesday the Air Force permits generals to retire on disability pay even though they were fit enough, just before retirement, to meet the physical standards for flying.

Proxmire noted that an officer receiving disability retirement pay gets a considerable tax saving. A 30 per cent disability means that 30 per cent of retirement pay is exempt from federal income taxes.

In a statement, Proxmire said figures gathered by the General Accounting Office showed that 130 of the 327 Air Force generals, who retired over the last five years were found qualified for disability pay of 30 per cent or more.

He said 97 of the 130 received flight pay during the year immediately preceding their retirement.

ROTC goes coed

REXBURG — Something new this year at Ricks College is an ROTC unit — made up of both men and women.

"It is a satellite program brought to the campus from Idaho State University by Col. William R. Foster, assistant professor of military science at ISU."

There are 35 men entered in the new military science program at Ricks and 25 women.

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — Tiny Tim incurred the wrath of a patron at an Augusta nightclub Tuesday night.

Wilford Shipes, 27, climbed onto the stage at the Kitten's Korner in Augusta and punched Tiny Tim, knocking him to the floor.

The falsetto voiced singer did not press charges, but police arrested Shipes and charged him with public drunkenness and creating a public disturbance.

Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Stevie and I went together for about four months, and he gave me his peace ring, which I wore all the time.

Last Friday we had a big fight, and I tried to give Stevie's peace ring back to him, but he refused to take it. I finally threw it at him.

He said he didn't want it, so I picked it up and stuck it in his pocket. That's when he SWALLOWED it!

I told my mother about it, and she said she didn't want me to ever go out with that lunatic Stevie again. Abby, I still care for him, and I'd like to go back with him, but now my mother won't let me. Now I'm sorry I told my mother anything. What should I do? LINDA

Peace ring

DEAR LINDA: Bide your time, Honey. Things have a way of working themselves out.

DEAR ABBY: Everybody thinks waitress work is a good deal because a girl doesn't need much education, little training, and if she's willing to work, she can rake in a lot of money. Well, I work for a place which employs about 100 waitresses, and what the customer does not know is this:

1. If a customer walks out without paying the check, the waitress has to pay it.
2. If he walks out WITH the check (all checks are numbered) it costs the waitress $10.
3. If a waitress breaks a dish, she pays for it.
4. If a waitress makes a mistake in addition (and under charges) she has to make up the difference.
5. If the waitress forgets to mark an item on the check, no excuse is acceptable, she is fired!
6. If a night girl comes on the floor and finishes serving for a day girl, the night girl loses the tip.

Now, Dear Abby, what advice have you for a weary, underpaid girl who has to support herself as a waitress? NO UNION HERE

DEAR NO: Hustle your bustle to the nearest travel bureau, find the first plane, train, bus or dog sled out of that town, and take it!

DEAR ABBY: Naturally you won't print this, but I am going to write it anyway. Everyone in a while, in your column there's a reference to a "male chauvinist pig," and of course the remark always comes from a woman.

What a laugh! Ask any service station operator or a janitor who cleans both men's and women's rest rooms who the "pigs" are. They will tell you they are the women, beyond a question of a doubt. And women will call men pigs! NO SYMPATHY IN NEW HAMPSHIRE

DEAR NO: I didn't have to ask. I've heard it for years.

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX 9709, L.A., CALIF. 90009 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

Robin Hood, Peter Rabbit write $3,000 in checks

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI)—Peter Rabbit was fond of lettuce and Robin Hood robbed from the rich and gave to the poor but according to the State Tax Department both apparently have conscience problems with money.

A department spokesman said Tuesday its Mincola office had received two checks from

"Peter Rabbit" and "Robin Hood" totaling more than $3,000.

The check from "Robin Hood" for $1,777.81 gave the sender's return address as "Sherwood Forest" although it was postmarked in Syosset.

"Peter Rabbit's" contribution of $1,337.44 was postmarked from Port Washington.

The state also received $187 in cash from Amsterdam, N.Y., from a taxpayer who said he "owed for back taxes" and asked the department to "Please forward this money so I can have some piece (sic) of mind."

Someone from Cobleskill sent in a $10 bill pinned to a note reading "I cheated on my sales tax."

Auditions set for nude male dancers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Carol Doda, whose silicone-enriched bosom helped launch San Francisco's topless craze, says she and 76 other co-workers will go on strike if topless-bottomless male dancers are permitted on North Beach stages.

Several nightclub owners, noting the furor caused by actor Burt Reynolds' portrait in the buff in a recent magazine, had announced plans to audition nude male dancers.

Miss Doda, 44-23-38, met with club owners Marvin Boyd of El Cid, Pete Mattioli of the Condor and Art Thannash of the Roaring 20s Tuesday to warn that the naked ladies of North Beach would walk off the stages if nude male dancers walked on.

Third time's charm

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Richard Imes, the Maytag repairman here, may not be the most loquacious man in town like the ads say, but he may have been the most scared recently because of Harold J. Endlich.

Endlich, 31, didn't mind when his washer and dryer broke down the first time, or the second, but on the third time he got very mad.

And when Imes came around recently for his third visit, Endlich brought out his shotgun and held it on him, according to a disorderly conduct complaint, and said "you ain't leaving until you fix the washer and dryer."

The appliance store has agreed to refund Endlich's money for the first two calls by the repairman but if he is found guilty and fined, he will lose it all again.

Cassius was on lead but could find nothing better than a diamond return. Caesar won; ruffed his low diamond; finally tried and lost the trump finesse but was still home with his contract.

Had Caesar tried a first round finesse in trumps, Cassius would have taken his queen and led a trump back; later on Cassius would get in with the king of diamonds and lead a third trump.

After this, Caesar would be unable to ruff his last diamond because dummy would be out of trumps.

Pantry program

New TF coordinator named for Food Pantry Program

TWIN FALLS — Mrs. Linda Medley, Department of Social Rehabilitation Services employee, is the new coordinator of the Emergency Food Pantry program in Twin Falls.

The pantry program provides food, clothing, gas, furniture and medical services on an emergency basis to indigent workers or families in the community who are temporarily unemployed or without funds.

Inquiries should be addressed to Mrs. Medley at 634 Addison Ave. W. or telephone 733-2323.

Mrs. Pat Brown, Twin Falls, who preceded Mrs. Medley as coordinator, was instrumental in the maintenance of the pantry program following the expiration in December, 1971 of an Office of Economic Opportunity grant which had provided funds through the South Central Community Action Agency.

Mrs. Brown approached Twin Falls County commissioners William T. Chancey, Merl E. Leopard and Heber J. Loughmiller concerning county assistance in providing more meat and staple items to supplement foods and materials donated by local churches, the state extension service, local groceries and the College of Southern Idaho.

The commissioners agreed to give $100 monthly to the program, and have since made available gasoline and have taken steps to assist with gasoline for persons stranded here while enroute to other areas. The county also provides some emergency medical assistance.

Upon learning of the commissioners' concern about certain individuals taking undue advantage of the free food and supplies, Mrs. Brown developed a central referral system whereby social services and religious agencies refer clients to the pantry program for interviews and assessment of need.

According to the commissioners, this policy has resulted in a savings for the county by discouraging abuse of the aid.

Valley couple plans fall rites

EDEN — Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cameron, Eden, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of her daughter, Charlotte Crumrine, to Rick Erickson.

Miss Crumrine is the daughter of the late Mr. Don Crumrine, Hazelton. Erickson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Erickson, Kimberly. Miss Crumrine is a 1971 graduate of Valley High School and attended the College of Southern Idaho for one year. She is employed by Mountain Bell Telephone Co.

Erickson was graduated from Kimberly High School in 1969 and is attending Idaho State University, majoring in physical education.

The couple plans a Sept. 20 wedding at the Presbyterian Church, Hazelton.

MISS CRUMRINE sets date

Couple weds

RUPERT — Coleen Kay Russell and Cecil James Hinton were married in the Twin Falls Baptist Church Frieside Chapel Aug. 4.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Russell, Rupert, and the bridegroom is a son of Mrs. Alice Nefzer, Heyburn.

Mrs. Gloria Martinez was matron of honor. Charles Brown, Heyburn, served as best man.

The couple resides in Heyburn. They are both employed in Turley.

Story hour

TWIN FALLS — Fall story hour sessions at the Twin Falls Public Library begin Saturday and will continue each week from 11 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

All interested children from pre-school ages through the sixth grade are invited to attend. The programs are held in the children's department of the library.

This week's story hour will be on the theme, "The Shape of Things to Come." Stories will include "X Marks the Spot," by Felder; "Square is the Shape," by Lerner and excerpts from "Kramer's Storybook."

Miss LaForce, Ambrose wed

BUHL — Debra LaForce, Santa Rosa, Calif., became the bride of Michael A. Ambrose, Buhl, in a double ring ceremony Aug. 12 at the Buhl First Methodist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph LaForce, Santa Rosa. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William R. Ambrose, Buhl.

Rev. H. B. Thomas performed the ceremony before baskets of white gladioli accented with blue bows and candelabra holding white tapers.

The bride, given in marriage by Arthur Bruce, Santa Rosa, uncle of the bridegroom, wore a floor-length gown of crystalline over tulle accented with two bands of Chantilly lace which also trimmed the chapel-length train.

The empire waistline was accented with a satin band and the bodice featured seed pearl lattice work and lace medallions which also trimmed the long sheer sleeves.

Her veil of bridal illusion fell from a Juliet cap of lace. She carried a colonial bouquet of blue carnations, blue baby's breath and stephanotis accented by a blue velvet bow and blue streamers.

Maid of honor was Connie Bruce, Santa Rosa, cousin of the bridegroom. Bridesmaids were Rhonda Ambrose and Patty Ambrose, both Buhl, sisters of the bridegroom.

Mark Garrett, Tracy, Minn., served as best man. Ushers and taper lighters were Mahlon Hammerquist and Ken Fischer, both Buhl.

Mrs. Gerald Jensen, organist, played traditional wedding music and accompanied Arlene and Linda Garrison.

A reception was held after the ceremony in the church hall. The bride's table was covered with white lace over blue. The three-tier wedding cake was decorated with blue flowers, edged with pink hearts, and topped by satin bells. The cake was flanked by crystal candelabra with blue tapers.

Diana Blair, Buhl, was in charge of the guest book. Mr. and Mrs. Pat Barry, sister and brother-in-law of the bride, and June Sherry assisted at the gift table.

Mrs. John Nielsen, Twin Falls, aunt of the bridegroom, cut and served the cake. Jackie Van Ostran, Buhl, poured coffee and Geri Lynn Nielsen, Twin Falls, cousin of the bridegroom, served punch.

Women of the Women's Society of Christian Service were reception assistants.

After a wedding trip to the Stanley area, the couple reside at Concord, Calif., where the bridegroom is stationed with the Navy.

Special guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Chester McKee, Kimberly, grandparents of the bridegroom; Brian LaForce, brother of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Pat Barry, Bob Barry, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bruce and Connie, all Santa Rosa.

A Lovelier You

SANDWICHES FOR REDUCERS

By Mary Sue Miller

A Lovelier writes: As my contribution to a Labor Day picnic, I am asked to bring low-calorie sandwiches for the dieting group. Is there such a thing?

The Answer: Sandwiches need not be calorie loaded at any time. Start with pumpnickel and white breads, sliced Melba thin. Per slice the count is only 44 to 50 calories.

But the fillings are the real secret of keeping counts down. Among the lowest are vegetable combinations such as leaves of Boston lettuce nestling chopped tomato, cucumber and radish dressed sparingly with dieter's mayonnaise. (On white bread approximately 100 calories.)

The following two recipes run around 150 calories on pumpnickel: 1/2 hard boiled egg chopped with roasted pimiento and fresh green pepper; mix with dieter's mayonnaise and curry powder to taste. Sardines, marinated in mustard sauce, served open-face and topped with capers.

Of course wafer slices of roast beef, chicken, tongue or cheddar cheese are less imaginative but not less delicious. Whatever you take, use plastic sandwich bags and wrap each sandwich separately and tightly.

Take along a colorful plastic platter for serving. And sufficient parsley and pickles to arrange a tempting garnish. The non-dieters will be wanting some, too!

Garden produce pointers

RUPERT — Pointers on when to pick your garden produce are listed by Charlene Wicks, Minidoka County home agent.

Sweet corn is best when harvested when the kernels are plump and in the milk stage. This is about three weeks after the first silks appear and when silks are dry and brown. You can test a few ears by opening a little window on the side of the ear.

Muskmelons should be picked at the full slip stage. Pick cucumbers while the fruit is still young, green and the seeds are soft. When the fruit is yellowish, it is beyond the best eating stage.

Ripe watermelons will have a cream or yellow color where they touch the ground. When thumping a melon, a hollow ring indicates it is not ripe; but a dull muffled sound indicates the fruit is ripe.

Blaine initiates school study

HAILEY — A three-year comprehensive study of Blaine County's secondary schools is expected to be initiated in September.

According to a school district press release, the study will include grades seven through 12, and encompass educational goals and objectives, human and physical resources, educational specifications for use by architects who will design the new high school, and a needs assessment.

The study team will be headed by Dr. B. J. Chandler, dean, school of education, and Dr. Lindley J. Stiles, professor for interdisciplinary studies, Northwestern University, and will include staff members from the Idaho Department of Education and Idaho institutions of higher education.

Walter Hoessel has been appointed to the dual role of on-site co-ordinator for the Northwestern University directed educational study and co-ordinator for community education for the county school district. He was formerly headmaster of Lake Forest Academy, Lake Forest, Ill.

As a co-ordinator, Hoessel will be in a full time resident capacity and will work with the county planning committee, administration, teachers, students and citizens in establishing guidelines for curriculum and building design in preparation for the new Wood River High School and extended educational opportunities for the junior high program.

The financing of the evaluation is a joint effort involving private, local and federal funds. The first year, 1972-73 will be totally financed by private resources. The amount is estimated to be $25,000.

The second and third years will be financed by the local school district and federal funds and will not exceed $25,000 over the two year period.

The first major action of the study will be to review the present district planning committee organization, review up to date progress evaluation, and add additional committee members to assure representation to include parents, business, students and teachers.

The school board and superintendent will serve as ex-officio members of the committee.

Supt. Charles Clark said the study, both comprehensive and long range, is expected to result in a "vastly-improved" Wood River High School, greater involvement of parents and other citizens in educational activities and an enriched educational program.

According to Dr. Chandler, Blaine County has a potential to develop one of the outstanding secondary school programs in the country.

Hoessel received his bachelor of science degree from Princeton University and his master's degree in education from Temple University. He has taught physics, chemistry, mathematics and English and served as head of the science department and assistant headmaster of Germantown Academy, Germantown, Pa.

The on-site co-ordinator has coached football and tennis and initiated outward bound programs. In addition he has been active in music and drama, participating in summer stock theater.

Heyburn keeps tutoring plan

By DAVE HORSEMAN
Times-News writer

BURLEY — Heyburn school will retain an elementary tutoring program initiated last year by VISTA volunteer Tom Bolton.

In a Burley meeting Wednesday evening, a group of 20 parents, teachers and students, nearly all Heyburn residents, set up organizational committees to assume leadership of the program in Heyburn.

Bolton's VISTA work ends in December and the committees plan to continue the program after he leaves.

Because of a lack of interest shown in the area, it was decided that no attempt would be made to initiate a similar program in Burley. Bolton said he had mailed a letter explaining the tutoring program to Cassia's Supt. Harold Blauer, but had received no answer.

The tutoring program is designed to increase reading skills and develop work habits of students in grades one through four.

The program consists of two-hour after-school sessions three days a week. During the first hour, volunteer high school students in a one-to-one ratio teach the elementary students reading skills. The second hour is devoted to small group activities intended to develop planning and working habits.

Heyburn School Principal Boyd Earl said of the meeting the school "will continue to support the program in every way possible. Last year's program was quite successful and was somewhat remarkable in its accomplishments."

Committee meetings were held following the general assembly Wednesday night. Plans are to start the program during the fourth week of school.

Bellevue pit 'on' again

By TERRY CAMPBELL
Times-News writer

BELLEVUE — The on again, off again Gordon Paving Co. gravel pit operation, south of Bellevue, is temporarily on again.

According to Blaine County Planning and Zoning Administrator David L. Vhay, his office has granted provisional permission for installation of a portable dry mix plant on the pit site, four miles south of Bellevue.

Vhay said the decision was made in order to enable Gordon Paving to utilize the about 500 to 600 yards of gravel stockpiled on the site.

Approval of the move had also been given by E. Lee Schlender, chairman of the county planning and zoning appeals board, which granted the company a conditional use permit to operate, Vhay said.

Earlier this month, the county commissioners pushed for a solution to the year-old dispute over the controversial gravel operation by requiring the company to dust-coat a 16-foot wide strip of county roadway, used as pit access, prior to resumption of operation.

The appeals board ruling, dated Oct. 10, 1971, had stated that before quarry operations commence, the road "shall be hard surfaced in conformity with Blaine County specifications for road surfacing."

At the time of the decision to require dust-coating, Commissioner Jack Bennett said the move was an effort to reach a "fair and equitable" solution to the problem and that the decision on the roadway had been left essentially to the commissioners.

Kenneth Hansen, Burley, company secretary, who was on the site Wednesday, said the cold mix was being used as a base for the Holiday Inn, Ketchum, parking area.

The company official said that the stockpile will be depleted within two to three days, but said that additional gravel may have to be purchased from another area pit to complete the project.

After that time, Hansen said, "We'll pull out. We have, at this time, no plans to resume pit operations this year."

The dry mix process involves a combining of the stockpiled gravel with emulsified oil and tar and does not produce dust, Hansen said. Prior to the beginning of that operation the roadway was treated with penetrating asphalt, he said.

The dust-coating of the about one-half mile of roadway extends the full width of the road from U. S. Highway 93, but narrows to truck width as it approaches the pit.

Close attention has been focused on the gravel pit since June 10, 1971, when Gordon Paving's request for a conditional use permit to operate was denied by the county planning and zoning board. However, the plant was operated from June to August.

The commission's decision was overturned in October by the appeals board, which established specific stipulations on the issuance of the permit which allows excavation, crushing and stockpiling of aggregate gravel.

In April, trucks began hauling the stockpiled gravel in violation of the ruling that the roadway be improved. After notification of the violation by Vhay, Gordon Paving curtailed hauling.

At that time, Hansen said that the company "had every intention of oiling the road" but that "it was too early in the year to oil." He said that Gordon Paving intended to abandon the pit for this year because of economic reasons and was solely removing the stockpiled gravel.

KEN NEFF, left, FFA member, and Reed Neff, 4-H club member, wait to weigh in their white steers Wednesday at the Minidoka County Fair. The fair opened to the public today.

Weighing in

Minidoka fair open to public

RUPERT — Activities at the Minidoka County Fair opened to the public today.

A highlight of the day is the judging of 4-H Club and Future Farmers of America performance horse classes at 7 p.m. in the rodeo arena. In past years, this event was conducted during the afternoon.

Exhibits in the Home Economics Building and in the livestock, crops and produce departments were opened to fair visitors today after completion of judging on Wednesday. Judges examined the various exhibits after they were brought to the fairgrounds and set in place.

Two major events are scheduled Saturday. The sale of 4-H Club and FFA fat stock is set for 9:30 a.m. under direction of the Valley Livestock Commission Co. At 2 p.m., the 4-H awards assembly will be conducted in the arena at the swine barn.

Two new exhibits are expected to draw considerable attention.

They are the ceramics department, with divisions for professional, amateur and juvenile exhibitors, and a nuclear energy display set up by Idaho State University students.

Parli-mutuel racing is scheduled at 2 p.m. Friday through Monday.

Three Richfield teachers named

RICHFIELD — Three teachers at the Richfield Elementary School have been selected as Outstanding Teachers of America for 1972. Word has been received by School Principal Mrs. Erma Flavel that Mrs. Alice Behr, Mrs. Violet Lemmon, and Mrs. Ada Marie Pope were selected for this national honor on the basis of their professional and civic achievements.

Their biographies will appear in the awards volume, Outstanding Elementary Teachers of America.

In announcing the award winners to the principal, Dr. V. Gilbert Beers, director of the Outstanding Elementary Teachers of America Program, cited them for their exceptional service.

"The women chosen for this high honor," Dr. Beers said, "have explored new paths, developed new insights, and effectively communicated their knowledge to their students and colleagues."

Guidelines for selection include a teacher's talents in the classroom, civic service and professional recognition.

Mrs. Lemmon taught school for 31 years before her retirement this spring. Twenty seven of those years have been with the Richfield schools. She received her life diploma from Albion Normal School and attended the University of Washington at Seattle before receiving her degree in elementary education from Idaho State University.

Mrs. Pope is teaching her 23rd year in the elementary school. She is a graduate of Albion State Normal School and Idaho State University. She teaches the fifth grade.

Mrs. Behr received her training at the Gooding College and her degree from Idaho State University. She has taught in the first three grades during the 12 1/2 years of her teaching career. She is presently the first grade teacher here where she has taught for eight years.

Burley CAA meet Friday

BURLEY — Two public meetings have been scheduled at the Community Action Neighborhood Center to reorganize and restaff the community boards and the senior citizens program.

A meeting will be held Sept. 1 at 3 p.m. to form a new Senior Citizens membership. The former Senior Citizens group has petitioned the Community Action Agency executive committee for disjunction.

On Sept. 5 at 8 p.m. an election will be held to fill vacancies on the Cassia County and Tri-County Community Action Boards.

The Neighborhood Center is at 1600 Albion Avenue.

Jerome zoning meet set

JEROME — The Jerome Zoning Commission will hold a public hearing 7 p.m. Friday on the proposed annexation of land for the new LDS Church.

The hearing will be held at the City Council room at city hall. The church wants to annex into the city limits four acres of land located east of Jerome between East Avenue B, East Avenue C and East Avenue D.

The zoning commission will then make its recommendations and zone classification to Jerome City Council for its consideration at Tuesday night's meeting.

Several Jerome residents protested the annexation of the property at the last city council meeting. They said it would not be in the best interests of the city of Jerome to let the church locate in the residential areas.

Cassia school enrollment up slightly over 1971

BURLEY — The total school enrollment in Cassia County is up slightly over what it was at the end of the first week in 1971, according to officials.

The enrollment after two days of school was 4,459 students. Last year at the end of the first week the total was 4,440 students in the district.

At Burley High School this year there are 774 students and last year there were 770 students; Declo High School has 240 students compared to 233 last year.

Oakley High School now has 182 students compared to 188 last year; Raft River High School has 177 students compared to 183 last year; Burley Junior High School has 790 students which is down from the

Lightning sets fires

Three lightning caused fires were reported Wednesday on Bureau of Land Management ranger land.

The largest fire, which burned 160 acres five miles west of Raft River on the old Pocatello highway, was declared out early this morning.

The Burley BLM district sent three ground tankers and one refuel tanker and crews to the fire. Chuck Bates was fire boss.

Two small fires caused by lightning were reported Wednesday afternoon in the Hailey area.

Michael Green, public information officer for the Shoshone BLM district, said a fire which started at 2 p.m. burned five acres three miles west of Hailey. It was brought under control in steep and rugged country about 7 p.m.

Three retardant drops were made from the air, with 18 fire fighters, three tankers and one bulldozer dispatched from the Shoshone office and a four-man "helitack" crew from the U. S. Forest Service.

The smaller fire burned only one acre about 13 miles east of Hailey.

Valley enrollment remains constant

VALLEY SCHOOLS — Enrollment at Valley High School remains the same as last year with 275 students attending the first day of school Monday.

Dr. Tom Utterback said, "All Valley High School students having first or sixth period study hall have their choice of not attending these periods."

The early graduation policy will be continued, he said, whereby any senior who has completed all graduating requirements by the end of the seventh semester may choose not to attend school the eighth semester.

Enrollment for grades five through seven is down 19 students from last year, with 57 students in fifth, 51 in sixth and 60 in the seventh grades.

Dr. Utterback said, "All Valley High School students having first or sixth period study hall have their choice of not attending these periods."

Eden Elementary school enrollment in grades one through four was down 30 students, with 49 first graders, 45 second, 35 third and 38 fourth.

U. of I. initiates minority program

MOSCOW — The University of Idaho has taken the first steps toward bringing minority students to the campus and providing programs for them, according to the coordinator of intercultural programs at the university.

"For example, in 1970 there were about 30 Black students at the university. All but four or five were athletes and there were very few women. This fall we expect upwards of 40 Black students with close to 10 of them women," said Corlann G. Bush.

Mrs. Bush has been working to bring more minority and disadvantaged students to the university.

Two other programs work to enroll Native American students. These are the federally funded Upward Bound program directed by Bud Langan and the new Native American graduate studies program directed by Dr. Jack R. Ridley.

There is need for greater university commitment to minority programs, especially in two areas, Mrs. Bush feels.

"There is a need for more scholarships, not simply from federal and state funds but also from foundations and private gifts," she said.

"Another need we are not meeting is providing credible guidance for minority students," Mrs. Bush stressed, adding that there are no established minority communities in Moscow or on the campus to provide support for the students. Additional minority faculty would help solve this problem, she said.

"Running a program well costs money but can we afford not to?" Mrs. Bush asked, noting that 60 to 70 per cent of University of Idaho graduates go outside the state and often to urban areas to find employment. There they come in contact with minority people.

"We do a great disservice to our own students if they do not have an opportunity to experience the racial diversity and complexity of our country while on campus," she said.

Mrs. Bush said she would prefer to see a small, well run program at the university rather than a large, inadequately funded one. She also feels the university should maintain its commitment to a diversity of minority groups, not limit the program to one group.

This fall eight or nine Blacks, three or four Chicanos, seven or eight Native Americans and three disadvantaged white students are expected as new students.

The University of Idaho is ideally geared to offer study in the professions and the sciences that will prepare minority individuals to successfully compete for employment in the current job market, Mrs. Bush said.

Keeping clean

TWIN FALLS — At least one visitor to Idaho takes the state's plea to keep Idaho clean seriously.

Wednesday a visitor entered the Sawtooth National Forest headquarters building in Twin Falls, and presented a package to receptionist Chrysanthe Horton.

"This belongs to you," he said, handing her a

"keep Idaho clean" litter bag filled with paper cups and other litter.

Mrs. Horton said she isn't sure where it came from or how it became the jurisdiction of the U. S. Forest Service unless the man brought it all the way from some mountain picnic area.

Action promised

BOISE (UPI) — Chief Deputy Attorney General Clarence Suter today said his office will take whatever actions may be necessary to protect the best interests of the state in the Sunshine mining death claims. Suter said the attorney general's office has not examined fully the $5.2 million worth of claims filed against the state by survivors of 47 of the 91 men who died in the May 2 disaster.

In those claims, filed under the Tort Claims Act, the survivors alleged their relatives died in the mine near Kellogg because the state mines inspector, W. Carl Griner, was negligent in inspecting it for safety.

"Of course, we will defend Mr. Griner vigorously," Suter said.

"We will take whatever actions may be necessary to protect the State of Idaho from any claim that might not be warranted in law or fact."

Decision receives support

WASHINGTON — Rep. Orval Hansen, R-Idaho, said today those responding to his poll of the Second District gave President Nixon a vote of confidence on his decision to mine North Vietnamese harbors and bomb railroads leading from Hanoi to China.

The Idaho Congressman said 83 per cent of those answering the questionnaire said they supported the President. Eleven per cent opposed the action and six per cent had no opinion.

Members of all 125,000 households in Hansen's district were asked if they approved the President's action, along with his offer to cease all acts of force in Indochina upon the return of American war prisoners and commencement of an internationally supervised cease-fire, and to withdraw all American forces from Vietnam within four months later.

Hansen said the question drew numerous written comments from respondents, with many agreeing with one Vietnam veteran that "This or similar action comes months or years too late."

A Pocatello resident praised the President for his courageous decision, saying "our POWs and MIAs and all servicemen who risk their lives to carry out a policy chosen by our representatives — both legislative and executive — deserve a full effort by this country to bring them back safely."

An Idaho Falls respondent added, "Any negotiation with North Vietnam must be from a position of strength, not weakness. Unfortunately it is too late to go in and win the war, but all possible pressure must be continued to attain the ends which are now considered desirable."

Takes gem position

BOISE (UPI) — Larry Mel-

erotto, who resigned as a special assistant to Gov. Cecil D. Andrus in July, is returning to state government Friday.

Budget director D.E. "Skip" Chilberg said Melerotto will join his staff to develop a coordinating system between the state planning and budgeting functions.

Melerotto was succeeded as a special assistant to the governor by Pat Vaughan in mid-July.

Murphy scores issue on work

BOISE (UPI) — Individual states should retain self-determination on the question of right-to-work laws, Lt. Gov. Jack M. Murphy told a news conference today.

Murphy said that while right-to-work legislation is not an issue in Idaho he and other Idahoans nonetheless are sorry the GOP National Platform did not speak to the question of self-determination.

He referred to controversial section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act which permits individual states to adopt their own laws on the question and to efforts to repeal that section of the law.

Murphy called the recent Republican National Convention in Miami Beach a "rather successful" meeting and added he felt that the platform adopted fits with 90 per cent of the thinking of mainstream Idaho.

The lieutenant governor, who headed the Idaho delegation, said he was glad the quota system for convention representation was defeated, adding that he believes such systems are unfair.

He disagreed with conjecture by pundits that the Republicans will not have ample candidates for president in 1976. He said it is too early at this time to be picking such candidates but, when asked specifically about Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, said he felt Agnew would "make an excellent president."

Murphy reiterated a statement he gave newsmen in Miami Beach that he has not yet ruled out the possibility he may run for governor in 1974.

He said if the election were to occur tomorrow he believes President Nixon would carry Idaho by at least 65 to 66 per cent of the vote. Nixon carried Idaho with 57.6 per cent in 1968.

2 hawks nurtured by man

MOSCOW — Two young red-tailed hawks are learning to trust man, before being returned to their natural habitat. Dr. Erik H. Stauber, assistant professor of veterinary science at the University of Idaho, said the birds were discovered by lumbermen cutting down a tree. They were turned over to the Idaho Fish and Game Department, which in turn gave them to the university.

Both birds are being fed small animals, and soon will be placed out of doors to become familiar with a specific feeding spot.

Once the birds are turned loose, they will return to be fed by men until they have learned to hunt for themselves.

The hawks will be banded so university scientists can follow their progress in adapting to life in the wild and in locating a hunting ground and roosting area, Stauber said.

Jerome-T.F. and Wendell-Buhl games highlight grid opening

The off-again, on-again Twin Falls-Jerome football series has another rebirth Friday night and that should highlight a nine-game opening schedule.

Only six of the area 11-man teams will be on the sidelines while all the eight-men teams are pointed toward the start of a home-and-home slate next week.

Sharing in the limelight will be the Wendell at Buhl contest as both of those teams are coming off some pretty good seasons and need only answer the question of whether the new seniors can fill some key spots.

Jerome and Twin Falls should be using different types of weapons. Jerome will have a big weight advantage over Twin Falls while the Bruins will have a good edge in speed. That will put the emphasis for both clubs on defense.

Jerome is coming off an undefeated season and has a lot of returning men, 15 in all. Only 10 of them are seniors.

Jerome's one question mark will be at quarterback where senior Rich Watson has moved into signal-calling. Last year he played halfback and some defensive secondary as Coach Ed Peterson went with Junior Jim Childers. However, Childers moved away. "I'll never put myself in that position again," Coach Peterson promises.

Coach Peterson does have something every belly-series coach loves to have, a great, big fullback. He's sophomore Norm Cochran, now up to 220 pounds — he started a little at the position last year but was the starting nose guard. The middle of Jerome's line is over 200 pounds, headed by Tody Walgamott at 240.

Wendell's problem is going to be Buhl's big weight advantage. Junior Brent Watson, now 233, will go both ways — at fullback and tackle. Gary Arford, a transfer from Seattle, is 222, 207; Tim Tverdy and Gary Kelth are 223 and 225. Now for Buhl's bad part, halfback Dennis Barnes is recovering from a broken foot sustained in off-season work. Steve Agahire, 195-pound guard (out with an arm sustained in a fight and 195-pound Jim Caughy is out for the year with a shoulder separation thanks to one of the innumerable motorcycle accidents.

The Indians have quarterback depth in Junior Charlie Hepworth who came on to start last year. He's 5-10, 155. Backing him right now, but pushing hard, is Seattle transfer Ron Folking and Filler transfer Doug Shure. Rick Thometz and Gary Fawcett are pencilled in at halfbacks but Junior Rick Laude is impressing the coaches more each day.

Kiner quits drugs, gets hair cut, guns for pro grid life

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—Former University of Tennessee All-American linebacker Steve Kiner was quoted Wednesday as saying he has beaten a drug problem, but his reform may have come too late. At the same time Kiner's story was being told here, the Miami Dolphins announced they had placed him on waivers. The Dolphins acquired Kiner earlier this month from the New England Patriots for a future draft choice.

Knoxville News-Sentinel sports writer Marvin West quoted the controversial Kiner regarding his drug problem. "I've done some foolish things," Kiner said. "My way of life has cost me thousands and thousands of dollars. I've lost a couple of years in establishing myself as a player."

"I'm having to start over in pro ball. I am treated as a rookie. My name might as well be Joe Henry. I'm in Miami seeing if I can make the team. You better believe I took a pay cut when the Patriots let me go."

Kiner was chosen the Pats top defensive player last year and made $30,000.

Cubs erase 5-run deficit, nip L.A.

CHICAGO (UPI)—Jim Hickman led off the bottom of the fifth inning with a home-run Wednesday afternoon to give the Chicago Cubs a 9-8 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers, who blew a five-run lead.

Hickman flashed a 3-2 pitch from reliever Jim Brewer into the left field bleachers for his 14th home run of the season to end the three hour and 37 minute marathon.

Paper says Howard to be traded

DETROIT (UPI)—Frank Howard, used on a part-time basis with the Texas Rangers this year, will become a member of the pennant-hungry Detroit Tigers Friday, the Detroit Free Press reported in its Thursday edition.

In a front-page story, the Free Press said the deal sending the 6-foot-7, 285-pound first baseman to the Tigers will not be officially completed until major league rosters become unfrozen Friday.

It was not known what or whom the Rangers will receive in exchange for Howard, who owns a $115,000 per year contract, the Free Press said.

On the near-eve of the game, Coach Peterson had another thought: "I'm really happy to see this rivalry renewed. I think it is great for our area and our two communities. I think a lot of good will come of it. I just hope no one does anything to spoil it, like starting a fight afterwards or something like that."

Getting a little more introspective, Peterson added "It is a great series for us (Jerome). It gives us the big game, the chance to play before big crowds for big gates and get good statewide publicity-win or lose."

At Buhl, Coach Jon Jund has his defense set up for Wendell. "We'll have shotguns at both corners," he reports. Prompting that is the return of two speedsters, Alan Stevenson and Kip Dennis, in the Wendell backfield.

Coach Yogi Berra has moved Stevenson to quarterback from wide receiver last year — and with Dennis at halfback it sounds like an awful lot of options coming up.

Giants defeat Cards in ninth

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Dave Rader and Tito Fuentes singled home runs in the ninth inning Wednesday night to give the San Francisco Giants a 3-2 win over Bob Gibson and the St. Louis Cardinals.

San Francisco's 3-2 victory was the first since Aug. 14 when they defeated the Cardinals, 3-2, in a game that lasted 11 innings.

Astros cop 4th from Phillies

HOUSTON (UPI)—Roger Metzger's bases-loaded infield grounder in the fifth inning drove in the winning run. Wednesday night to give the Houston Astros their fourth straight victory, a 5-3 triumph over the Philadelphia Phillies.

Metzger's bounce to second was handled as a fielder's choice and drove in Tommy Helms. Philadelphia ace Steve Carlton walked Doug Rader to open the fifth and gave up his first hit to Helms, a single to shortstop.

Shooters, swimmers pace U.S. gold medal efforts

MUNICH (UPI)—John Writer of Clarendon Hills, Ill., and Shirley Babashoff of Fountain Valley, Calif., helped the United States to a pair of gold medals Wednesday and the Yank basketball team, given the scare of its life, rallied for its 50th consecutive victory to feature a long day of Olympic competition.

Writer, who shoots a rifle as fast as a humanly possible, led a 1-2 American medal harvest in small bore shooting while Miss Babashoff made up a small deficit on the final leg of the 400-meter freestyle relay to give the United States its sixth and seventh gold medals of the Games. Both events produced world records.

American basketballers, put down by some as a collection of nobodies, showed a lot of courage in rallying from a seven-point deficit midway through the second half, went on to score their fourth victory of the Games and kept alive one of the longest streaks in amateur sports. The United States never has lost an Olympic basketball game and is seeking its eighth gold medal in a row this year.

Yank athletes picked up three silvers and two bronzes in addition to the two golds and ran their Games medal total to 22—seven more than surprising East Germany and 11 ahead of the Soviet Union, which won golds in men's individual gymnastics, lightweight weightlifting and men's springboard diving.

Craig Lincoln of the University of Minnesota finished third in the diving for the best showing by an American, but it marked the first time since 1912 that the United States hasn't won the event.

Writer finished the shooting competition, which included firing from three positions, with 1,160 hits, one more than the world record held by a Russian. Teammate Lanny Bassham of Fort Worth, Tex., had 1,157 hits to grab the silver medal and West Germany's Werner Lipoldt took the bronze with 1,153 hits.

Miss Babashoff spurred all the way on her leg of the 400 relay as the American team, which also included Sandra Neilson of El Monte, Calif., Jenny Kemp of Cincinnati and Jane Barkmann of Wayne, Pa., held off a strong East German quartet to win in 3:55.2.

There were three other swimming finals of the program, but they were won by Shane Gould of Australia, Gunnar Larsson of Sweden and Nobutaka Taguchi of Japan.

Miss Gould won her second gold by taking the 400-meter freestyle in a world record 4:10.04. Larsson, a 19-year-old from Newton, Pa., by 2,100ths of a second—4:31.981 to 4:31.983—in the 400-meter individual medley and Taguchi rallied from far back to take the 100-meter breaststroke in a world record 1:04.0.

Other gold medals went to East Germany's Angelika Bahmann in the women's canoeing kayak singles slalom in 3:55.50; Walter Hoffman and Rolf-Alteier Amend of East Germany in the Canadian pairs canoeing in 3:10.68; Russia's Mukharbi Kirzhinov in lightweight weightlifting with a world record lift of 1,014 pounds; Japan's Sawao Koto in men's all-around gymnastics with 114.650 points; Ludmila Tourischeva of Russia in women's all-around gymnastics with 77.025 points; Witold Woyda of Poland in individual foil fencing, and Vladimir Vasin in the springboard diving with 694.00 points.

It was a busy day all around for American athletes. Boxers Ricardo Carreras of Hamilton, Calif. Air Force Base, stopped Michael O'Brien of Brazil in the third round of their bantamweight fight on a TKO and welterweight Jesse Valdez, also of Hamilton, won a decision over Carlos Burga of Peru.

The Yank water polo team extended its unbeaten string to four games with a 4-5 victory over Mexico and American freestyle wrestlers made a strong showing through the fourth and fifth rounds, but yachting proved a disappointment.

In yachting, where the United States was given a good chance to pick up several medals, after two races in the six race series, the best was a second in Soling. The Soling crew led by Buddy Melges of Zenda, Wis., was second. Otherwise, the U.S. stood 4th in Dragon, 21st in Flying Dutchman, 16th in Star, 10th in Finn dinghy and 10th in Tempest.

Brazil, which finished ahead of the United States in basketball at the last Pan American Games, took advantage of cold shooting by the Yanks to build a seven-point lead at 43-36 early in the second half. The tall Brazilians slowed down the tempo of the game, but suddenly, with little Doug Collins, showing the way, the Yanks went on a tear, closed the gap and then went ahead to stay with about seven minutes to go. Tom Henderson led the scoring with 12 points and Collins had 11.

Track and field, considered glamour sport of the Games by many, arrives Thursday. Finals are on tap in the 20-kilometer walk and the women's long jump with heats in the 10,000-meter run, 100-meter dash.

Iba feels rally will help team

MUNICH (UPI)—Frank Iba, coach of the United States' all-conquering basketball team which has won 50 straight Olympic contests and seven gold medals, has said there will come a time when the team will lose a game and Wednesday night was almost that time.

Brazil led the U.S. by seven points at one stage in the second half before the Americans finally prevailed 61-54 for their fourth consecutive conquest in as many days this week.

Iba, bone honest as always, admitted to some trepidation when the Brazilians jumped that far out in front. Asked whether he thought this might be the night when the U.S. would lose its first game he said, yes, he thought it could be.

"Yes, I thought so, and I guess you did too," he said, addressing newsmen after the contest.

But Iba immediately said his team played well. He pointedly refused to criticize it.

"This game helped us a lot," said the U.S. coach. "We needed a game where we came from behind. The team made some mistakes to be sure, but we're going to correct them."

"We are very fortunate," Iba went on. "I am well satisfied and know the boys are, too."

Doug Collins of Illinois State, who scored 11 points for the U.S., said he did not think tonight's effort represented any letdown after Tuesday night's victory over Cuba.

NHL hikes pension, playoff money in image making move

TORONTO (UPI)—The National Hockey League, out to improve its image among players and the general public, announced increases in player pensions and playoff money Wednesday.

NHL President Clarence Campbell, along with NHL Players' Association Director Alan Eagleson, announced a new three-year agreement — and a new high in mutual accord.

"I don't know of any other time when there have been fewer points of contention between the Players' Association and the NHL," Campbell said at a press conference at Maple Leaf Gardens.

Players' pensions have been raised from $300 a month at age 45 to $500, Campbell estimated a player who starts drawing a pension at age 65 would collect $10,000 to $17,000 a year under the new agreement.

The pension boost was made possible in part by the NHLPA share of the Canada-Russia series bonanza. Eagleson said the NHLPA expected to receive $100,000 for its pension fund from the series' benefits.

Under the agreement, total cash awards for winners of the Stanley Cup will be $19,000 — a $2,000 increase. Losers' shares will be $14,000.

"These figures bring hockey to a point that compares favorably with any other sports," said an Eagleson-Campbell statement.

Campbell said the NHL was now willing to make changes in its standard player contract to make it more acceptable to the

Super Bowl claims Hambletonian win

DU QUOIN, Ill. (UPI)—The previous record Hambletonian heat was 1:56 4-5 by Ayres in 1964. Super Bowl was clocked at 1:57 2-5 in his first heat Wednesday, tying the time of Speedy Crown in winning the prize stake last year, second fastest ever in the stake.

The big colt, scheduled to retire to replace his daddy at stud for Hanover Shoe Farm next Jan. 1, set a record for the Hambletonian with a clocking of 1:56 2-5 in winning the second heat.

His time for the two heats combined was 3:53 4-5, breaking the old mark of 3:54 set for 3-year-old trotters by Nevele Pride in 1967.

Stanley Dancer drove Super Bowl to his Wednesday win. Strangely it was his second Hambletonian victory and his previous triumph came behind Nevele Pride when that fractious colt set the previous world record for two heats.

Campbell said the NHL was now willing to make changes in its standard player contract to make it more acceptable to the

Horoscope

Carroll Righter

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 1, 1972

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The early morning finds you able to work out some problems to your satisfaction by utilizing to advantage your logical reasoning powers, but take no chances the rest of the day and evening and think out the best way to solve problems through a careful and cautious approach. Keep calm.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You are able to persuade others to carry through with your own ideas in a.m., but after lunch it is just the opposite with bigwigs, so carry through then as they prefer. Give earnest encouragement to the one you love. Get fine results.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You have to handle material affairs at home very carefully today and tonight. You are able to solve all the important financial matters through perseverance. Show others you are not easily thwarted in your efforts.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Some letter you receive in a.m. can serve as a guidepost for the days ahead, but after lunch you have to handle affairs without undue impatience. Don't run around socially without some definite purpose in mind.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You have to use common sense where those secret affairs are concerned in a.m., then study whatever comes up very carefully, but do not reach definite decisions yet. Bide for time with those who apply pressure on you.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Quietly state your aims with a good friend, but do not pressure and you get the cooperation you want and need. You have to use more patience if you are to gain vital desires. Good friends are most important to you now.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Make certain you do not take any undue risks so you do not jeopardize either reputation or credit or both. Get your hair paid and stop using excuses. Plan more time for the one you love in p.m.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) A good friend can be of assistance to you in gaining the aims you have in mind. Do the studying that will lift your thinking. Diplomatically discourage a glamorous, especially if you are married.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) A higher-up can give you the right answer to some problem you have, but think the questions over carefully tonight before acting in the morning. Keep busy at routines. Some light recreation is fine tonight.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) If you do not have the right understanding with an important associate, now is the time to get it. You had better do something wise about that problem that is pressing. Procrastinating only makes it worse.

CARRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You want to delve right into all that work but it would be well first to check with higher-ups and go-workers so that it is done to the satisfaction of all concerned. Please, an attachment by doing what is wanted of you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) If you take an associate with you, you can have the delightful time at recreations you want. First put particular effort on important work you have to do. Get that project on the road intelligently.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) If you have to go out to business, plan how to improve conditions at home, otherwise center your energies on that exclusively during day. A different approach to an old problem sees it nicely solved. Show you are a clever person.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those almost neurotic young people who early needs the spiritual training and the gentle discipline that will mold the nature into a fine and stalwart young lad or lass, or else your interesting son, daughter becomes the proverbial rolling stone that gathers little moss. Teach early to complete what has once been started. The profession should be one where logical thinking is the first requirement. Give sports that are healthful.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

What's What

L. M. Boyd

Says a crime statistician: "Of all reported major offenses, the experts say only 12 per cent lead to arrest, only 6 per cent to conviction, only 1 per cent to prison." That's astonishing. If true, it means there are only three chances in 100 that the culprits get punished for serious crimes.

AVERAGE newborn infant sleeps 16 hours a day. So report Los Angeles medical researchers. Don't fret, however, if your offspring doesn't fit this pattern. Some babies are said to get by with as few as 10 hours sleep daily while others doze as many as 23 hours.

IN THE ancient ordinances of the New England colonies were laws which allowed a father to put his own child to death for disobedience. Think of that! No, can find no record that a father did so under said law. But just the fact such authority was prescribed is remarkable, what?

QUERIES

Q. "Does the British Government allow Queen Elizabeth II to fly in an airplane?"
A. "Only if it has more than one engine."

Q. "How old is a lyn before it hunts?"
A. With help, 14 months. Alone, 20 months.

Q. "How many quarts of milk make a gallon of ice cream?"

SAY YOU brush against nettles. They sting your ankle. Apply Scotch tape to said ankle, then yank it off quickly. Do it again with fresh tape. And again, if necessary. A kindly client tipped me off to this trick. Says it pulls out the sting every time.

ADULTERY

That Yale anthropologist Dr. George P. Murdock studied 148 of the world societies to learn that only five of same condoned adultery. Wife-swapping, polygamy, mistress matchups, that sort of thing, "condoned" here means "publicly approved."

YOU ASKED what's the longest hole in one ever sunk in golf? Exactly 444 yards. Robert M. Terry of Omaha, Neb., did that. On Oct. 7, 1966. At the 10th hole of the Miracle Hills Golf Course.

WHAT'S most apt to go wrong with your car depends on where you drive: Around town, but very failure is No. 1 on the freeway, predictably running out of gas is No. 1. Tire trouble is No. 2, wherever.

IT HAS been determined that a gopher can tunnel underground 300 times its own length in one night. Amazing! Were a front-line soldier so capable, he could dig 300 fox holes from dawn to dusk.

A Volkswagen
guarantee
doesn't have to guarantee
a Volkswagen.

Any used car that's tough enough to pass VW's 16-point inspection deserves a VW guarantee. No matter how big it is.

You see, a VW guarantee isn't a 50/50 deal, but our full 100% guarantee to repair, or replace all major mechanical working parts* for 30 days or 1000 miles. Whichever comes first.

So before we guarantee a big used car, we make sure it's as tough as our little car.
Here are some big cars
who are tough enough:

*engine, transmission, rear axle, front axle assembly, brake system,
electrical system.

TF county seeks bids on landfills

By RONNIE BAIRD JONES

Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — Bids have been called for by the Twin Falls County commissioners for Sept. 18 on operation of three sanitary landfills in the county.

County Commissioner Merl Leonard said the county is seeking bids from a private individual or company willing to provide necessary heavy equipment and manpower to operate the large sanitary landfill now operated by the City of Twin Falls and located south of town in addition to two others.

One, the Black Bear site near Buhl, will serve the west end of the county. Another in the Kimberly-Hansen area will serve the east end.

Under new Department of Environmental Protection and Health regulations, the county must meet new and rigid standards for sanitation services. It is required to operate landfills in compliance with these regulations rather than as simple dumpgrounds as in the past. All collections must be covered daily, commissioners said.

Bids will be opened at 11 a.m. Sept. 18 in the commissioners' office and bidding specifications are available from Ed Woods, zoning administrator, or Darrell Helder, county sanitation officer in the old hospital building.

Bidding firms are asked to submit a bid on all three sites and an alternate on the east and west sites.

County officials acquired the 80-acre city landfill south of town July 1, with an agreement by the city to continue operating it for 30 days. This has been extended until bids can be received and the county can complete arrangements for contracting the work or hiring county operators.

The state law permits a maximum two mill levy by counties for sanitation which would give the county about $120,000 for their entire sanitation program. This year, the county budgeted $101,000.

Dog owners told to watch pets

TWIN FALLS — Dog owners were advised today by Keith Saville, city humane officer, to keep close watch on their pets.

He said as many as 10 dogs, some of them valuable purebred animals, have been reported missing by owners in the past few weeks.

Saville said there is no concrete evidence but suggested someone may be "dognapping" the animals for sale elsewhere. He advised owners to keep their dogs where dognappers could not get to them.

He said several hunting dogs and two Doberman pinscher puppies are among the missing animals.

Mental patient charged

NELSON, B.C. (UPI) — An escapee from a mental institution was charged Wednesday in connection with a shooting rampage which left six persons dead and three others wounded along a 100-mile trail through the British Columbia interior.

William McConnell, 27, was formally charged in B.C. provincial court with the murder of Mrs. Lester Gregg.

Clark of Penticton, B.C. Royal Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP) said further charges were pending. McConnell escaped July 30 from the Riverview Mental Institution near Vancouver.

W.J.G. MacFarlane, acting director of the institute, said McConnell "had no record of violence behind him" when he entered the hospital in May.

"It was the first time he had been in our hospital, but I believe he had also been in a hospital in the interior,"

MacFarlane said. Mrs. Clark's body was the first of six recovered by RCMP as they retraced the gunman's trail through bushland from the Okanagan to the Kootenays.

Police have released the names of only three victims—Mrs. Clark, Thomas John Pozney, 24, of Nakusp, B.C. and Willard Lee Potter, 16, of Oliver, B.C.

RCMP were withholding the names of the other three victims—a 71-year old man and an elderly couple.

Drug count accuses 3

TWIN FALLS — Three persons were arrested late Wednesday and charged with possession of a controlled substance by Twin Falls County Sheriff's officers.

Arrested were John William Holland Jr., 25; Don Earl Montgomery, 22; and Jacqueline Dee Holland, 19, all Twin Falls. Bond was set in magistrate court at $300. All three posted bond and were released.

Bid opening on canal

HOLLISTER — Bids will be opened at 2 p.m. today at Hollister for reconstruction of the Salmon River Canal Co. main canal located seven miles west of Rogerson.

Morris Huffman, canal company general manager, said construction will involve a lining project and building of a flume about four miles of the canal.

If bids are accepted, work will probably begin on the canal within the next 30 days, Huffman said. A public works contractor's license for the State of Idaho is required for the construction contractor.

Gunboat dispatched in Iceland's fishing feud

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (UPI) — The Icelandic coast guard today dispatched an unarmed gunboat to meet British trawlers violating the new 50-mile fishing limit that takes effect Friday.

Coast guard officials said the 600-ton gunboat Arvakur left Reykjavik's harbor this morning in rain and storm. Although a gunboat, the Arvakur carries no guns, the officials said.

A Fokker Friendship plane also left the Keflavik airport to take pictures and count all foreign trawlers spotted inside the 50-nautical mile limit.

Reports in Reykjavik that British trawlers had already been spotted inside the 50-mile limit could not immediately be confirmed.

Britain and West Germany have opposed Iceland's decision to extend her fishing limit from 12 to 50 miles on grounds it will have a severe effect on their countries' fishery industries.

The International Court in The Hague has ruled the decision illegal and British trawlermen have threatened to ignore the new limit even if it leads to a new "cod war" like the one which began in 1958.

At that time Iceland extended her fishing limit from four to 12 miles and Britain dispatched her navy to protect British trawlers. The "cod war" lasted three years.

Foreign minister Einar Agustsson today published the content of a note delivered Wednesday to British ambassador John McKenzie with a copy to West Germany's ambassador Karl Rövald.

The note said Iceland had told the International Court it did not consider the decision binding but that Iceland is always ready to discuss the matter.

Yellowstone field trip set Sept. 6

JACKSON, Wyo. (UPI) — Forestry scientists from Utah and Idaho and three other western states will participate in a field trip Sept. 6-7 at West Yellowstone, Mont., to observe pine beetles impact on timber.

Forest Service officials said the field trip and meeting here is to show the impact of the mountain beetle on lodgepole pine.

The current infestation at Yellowstone National Park is part of a general infestation that started in low elevation stands of trees in the Targhee National Forest. The infestation reached the park in 1966.

Foresters attempted chemical control for seven years but a complete analysis in 1970 showed the results were inadequate.

The conference will be sponsored by the Intermountain and Northern Forest Pest Action Councils. Representatives from Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Utah and Wyoming are scheduled to attend.

CSI given funds

TWIN FALLS — The College of Southern Idaho has received $79,830 in federal funds to help an estimated 181 students with their college education.

According to Rep. James McClure, R-Idaho, the CSI grant was part of more than $1 million awarded to eight Idaho colleges Wednesday by the Office of Education.

Federal funds represent 90 per cent of the program's capital reserve. The Idaho schools will be expected to contribute an additional 10 per cent, McClure said.

The awards include $198,216 to assist an estimated 450 students at Boise State College; $100,597 for 229 students at the College of Idaho; $216,000 to aid 491 at Idaho State University; $94,950 to help 216 at Lewis-Clark State College; $13,312 for 30 students at North Idaho College; $120,600 to aid 274 at Northwest Nazarene College, and $266,888 to help 607 at the University of Idaho.
